

FRENCH CASE GOES TO JURY LATER TODAY

The case of Joseph French, 32, 118 W. High St., charged with involuntary manslaughter and driving while under the influence of intoxicants as a result of an accident March 25 which brought death to a Littlestown father and two of his children is scheduled to go to the jury for final decision this afternoon.

By noon today Atty. Eugene R. Hartman, representing French, and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter had presented their arguments to the jury. At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon Judge W. C. Sheely began his charge and then the jury will retire to deliberate its verdict.

Trial of French began Thursday afternoon when Dr. Roy W. Gifford, Warner Hospital surgeon, took the stand to tell of the injuries which brought death to Ray D. Pittenturf, 36, 106 Boyer St., Littlestown, a truck driver; his son, James William, aged 10; and his daughter, Jean, six. Mrs. Pittenturf, another daughter, Sandra, eight; a daughter, Linda, 12, and Joan, six, twin of Jean, were less seriously hurt in the crash.

All were alive when he first saw them, Dr. Gifford said. Jean "took two breaths and died," Jimmy died 40 minutes after arrival. Both died from compound fractures of the skull. Mr. Pittenturf died about a day and a half later. He had a possible skull fracture and his diaphragm had ruptured, with his stomach pushing up into his left chest forcing his heart into his right chest.

Dr. Gifford said he examined French at the hospital and found him under the influence of intoxicants. He said French had a strong odor of alcohol about him and "almost fell over me once."

Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, said French had a strong odor of alcohol about him at the hospital. Dr. Crist said when he asked him what he had to drink and where he got it, French told him it was "none of your business."

HYLTON FOUND GUILTY

Testimony in the French case was interrupted briefly during the afternoon when the jury that had heard the charges of contributing to delinquency and furnishing intoxicants to minors against Roosevelt Hylton, Littlestown, returned a verdict of guilty against him. The jury was headed by Earl Heiges, Hanover, as foreman.

Ten musicians from five high school bands in Adams County are taking part in the Region III state band which assembled Thursday at the York Suburban Junior-Senior High School for a three-day series of rehearsals and concerts with James W. Dunlop, director of the Blue Band at Pennsylvania State University, as guest director.

The county musicians taking part include: Mary Keffer, Delone Catholic High School, first clarinetist; Eileen Zeigler, Gettysburg; Gary Bream and John Shepard, Biglerville High School, second clarinetists; Joyce Schwartz, Gettysburg, bass clarinet; Judy Ecker, Bermudian Springs, alto saxophone; Richard Eiker, Gettysburg, baritone saxophone; Clara Miller, Biglerville, baritone; James Scott, Gettysburg, bass horn; and Richard Higinbotham, New Oxford, bass drum.

There will be concerts tonight and Saturday night at 7:55 o'clock.

C. C. SEEKING 220 MEMBERS; HAVE 133 NOW

Each member of the membership committee of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce will contact 10 potential members during the coming week in an attempt to secure the goal of the committee, 200 members for the Chamber, it was decided Thursday at the committee's luncheon session in the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Frank Sapp, chairman, told the group: "We already have proof of the efficiency of members contacting individuals. Gen. Willard S. Paul accepted 14 names which he said he would contact. Already eight of those men have forwarded checks to become members of the Chamber of Commerce." He added: "We have 133 members so far. We seek to make it 200. There is a potential of 367 members, according to the number of business places in the area."

Those listed as having names to canvass were Chairman Sapp, Ralph Barley, Jacob Brichter, Frank Breiner, Ned Crouse, C. Edgar Deardorff, Russell Campbell, Philip Dunn, Fred Faber, Norman Graft, James Knox, Frank Loney, George Naugle, General Paul, John Reimer, Joseph Gallagher, Calvin Shank, Edward A. Sheets, Maurice Stoops, Atty. Charles Wolf, William Weaver, George M. Zerfing, Donald Carver and William Lewis.

Named by Chairman Sapp as an auditing committee were Dunn, Gallagher and Lewis.

Crops And Property Severely Damaged In Worst Floods In 20 Years In 6 Midwest States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Illinois river towns battled the worst floods in 20 years today in the most serious overflows across Midwestern valley lowlands in six states.

Fifteen counties in Illinois, all in the southern region, have been listed as disaster areas. But Gov. Otto Kerner has appealed to the Office of Civil Defense to declare 53 counties, covering most of the southern half of the state, a major disaster area.

Although Illinois appeared the hardest hit by the spring floods, water from rain-fed rivers and streams covered broad sections of Missouri, Arkansas, Indiana, Oklahoma and Kansas.

HEAVY CROP DAMAGE

The floods have driven thousands from their homes. The muddy waters, covering thousands of acres of farm land, have taken a heavy toll in property and crop damage—estimates running into the millions of dollars.

TWO YOUTHFUL BURGLARS ARE CAUGHT IN ACT

Robert E. Thomas, 18, of 224 E. Middle St., and a 16-year-old Gettysburg boy were taken into custody late Thursday night by John Maslowski, Gettysburg R. 1, who told police he found them burglarizing his Dairy Queen soft ice cream stand east of here along the Lincoln Highway.

Police, called to the Dairy Queen, found Maslowski standing guard over Thomas and the 16-year-old. Police brought a charge of burglary against Thomas before Justice of the Peace Anna Thompson and placed him in the county jail. Charges were brought before juvenile authorities against the 16-year-old and he was placed in custody of his parents.

Maslowski told police he returned to the Dairy Queen late Thursday night to make a final check after the night man had left the premises. The business place had been burglarized several times last year.

On his arrival he found a screen and cardboard had been removed from a window. When Maslowski swung open the door and entered he found Thomas and the other youth in the building. Police said that Maslowski was able to prevent the boys from escaping from the small structure while phoning for the officers and stood guard until police arrived.

Cpl. James Treas said Thomas and the juvenile said they had been in the building "only a minute" before Maslowski arrived and had not yet taken anything when the door swung open and the proprietor rushed in. Treas said the two boys had gone to the Dairy Queen in a car operated by the 16-year-old.

The burglary was the second in two nights along the Lincoln Highway in the area just east of here. Wednesday night or early Thursday morning burglars removed $151.30 worth of beer and a tarpaulin from the Gettysburg Beverage Co. establishment located only a few hundred yards from the Dairy Queen.

At the beverage company burglars opened a window and then removed from the building seven cases of imported beer valued at $32.50; six cases of assorted bottled beer valued at $21, 11 cases of canned beer valued at $33; four cases of small sized bottled beer valued at $9.80 and a 5 by 11-foot canvas tarpaulin valued at $35.

Miss Martin, a native of New York City, studied sculpture at Vassar College, the Art Students' League, the Sculpture Center, and the Columbia University School of Painting and Sculpture.

Awarded the Chalonier Prize in 1954 and 1955, she worked in Rome for two years. Returning to Columbia in 1959, she studied for the M.F.A. degree.

MRS. JOHNS, 88, DIES THURSDAY

Mrs. Ethel C. Johns, 88, a former music instructor at Albion College, Mich., Conservatory of Music, died at the home of her nephew, Graham C. Lovejoy, Biglerville R. 2, at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. She had been living there since 1940.

Born in Butler, Mich., she was a daughter of the late Marcus M. and Cornelia Decker Calkins, and was a graduate of the Albion College Conservatory of Music in 1893. After graduation, she taught there for six years.

Her husband, Dr. A. Raymond Johns, died in 1934. He was pastor of the Methodist Church in Albion and in Muskegon, Mich. Mrs. Johns served as organist for the two churches when her husband was pastor.

She was a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Owen R. Lovejoy, Biglerville R. 2.

Funeral services and interment Tuesday from the Marsh Funeral Home, Albion, Mich.

SCULPTRESS WILL LECTURE AT ST. JOSEPH

For the final program of the Institute on the Fine Arts in Christian Culture, held during the year at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Miss Anne Martin, sculptress, will lecture Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Financed by the Esso Education Foundation, the institute has presented artists who have addressed an audience of faculty and students from the colleges of Maryland on every phase of creative art, in order to demonstrate the significant contributions which Catholics have made toward art in a Christianized culture.

Miss Anne Martin, a native of New York City, studied sculpture at Vassar College, the Art Students' League, the Sculpture Center, and the Columbia University School of Painting and Sculpture.

Awarded the Chalonier Prize in 1954 and 1955, she worked in Rome for two years. Returning to Columbia in 1959, she studied for the M.F.A. degree.

MISS ANNE MARTIN

Miss Martin has shown her sculpture at the Pennsylvania Academy, the Architectural League of New York and in other group exhibitions. In recent years she has become interested in liturgical art, often interpreting subjects from the life of Christ, such as Magdalene and Pieta. The most important of these works is the Stations of the Cross which she will install in a chapel in Vermont.

At present she is developing studies for a high relief for the students' lounge at Columbia. In the fall she will teach sculpture at City College, New York.

Report Kirby Loses Allegheny

NEW YORK (AP) — Reports circulated today that the dissident Murchison forces have upset Allan P. Kirby, chairman, in a proxy struggle for control of Allegheny Corp.

Votes in the contest still are being counted in secret in a Baltimore hotel but the report was that the Murchison group has taken a lead that the Kirby interests cannot overcome.

One source in a good position to know said that Kirby had acknowledged to intimates that the Murchisons could not be overtaken.

Both the Kirby or Murchison sources declined to be quoted by name.

The issue went to stockholders in the $6.7-billion holding company at the corporation's annual meeting May 1. Tallying of proxies and ballots began the next day.

HOPE TO START

The United States had accepted a report from the truce commission in Laos that a cease-fire exists.

A spokesman for the British delegation said he still hoped the conference could start Saturday—but even that is not certain. The official spoke after British Foreign Secretary Lord Home held an hour-long conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

When the conference was called, Britain had said Laos would be represented by a coalition formed

Eisenhower And His Former Cabinet Members Confer On Campaigns Of 1961 And 1962

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower told an informal press conference in front of his office Thursday afternoon that the luncheon-conference he hosted for former members of his cabinet was a meeting of old friends who wanted to get together and discuss various national and international issues.

He said: "We wanted to counsel among ourselves the political scene, the international and domestic issues and make up our mind in what direction we feel the country ought to go. If in the future we feel we should meet again we will." He said that they did not discuss any specific issue of the recent campaign but "we did talk about the June 1 dinner we are going to have at which I will be one of the speakers."

JAYCEES HERE WIN 2 HONORS AT CONVENTION

The Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce won two awards at the state Jaycee convention at Reading last weekend. President Robert Weiland reported at Thursday evening's meeting of the local group at its office in the Western Maryland Railway depot.

The local chapter was named as the first place winner for community development with its street lighting survey of last summer.

It also, for the first time, was named as a "Keystone Chapter," an award based upon all activities, membership and participation in state projects.

The Gettysburg Jaycees voted to participate with the Lancaster Junior Chamber in a program of entertaining 70 foreign students. The 70 will visit here July 17 with the program to include a tour of the battlefield, Attorney Oscar Spicer was named chairman of the local committee to work with the Lancaster committee headed by Walter Mower.

Plans were made for a meeting Wednesday evening of the executive committee of "operation Gettysburg" with Jack Pontius, of the Saturday Evening Post, to go over final arrangements before holding a meeting of the community committee which will head up the program to beautify the community. President Weiland announced that Harold Ecker has accepted chairmanship of the business contacts committee for (Continued On Page 10)

When he was asked whether the conferees talked about Secretary of Agriculture Freeman's farm program, General Eisenhower spoke out with: "We did not, but if we did it would be in terms so emphatic that there would be little doubt as to where we stand . . . we don't like it."

When asked if they discussed the 1964 campaign the former president said: "We confined our discussions to '61 and '62. We feel that we should not go that far."

Gen. Eisenhower said that if his former secretary of labor, James Mitchell, the GOP nominee for governor of New Jersey, wanted some assistance he was sure that his wishes would be granted. He did not say that he would campaign for him. The conferees did not discuss a possible successor to the national chairman, Sen. Thurston B. Morton.

One reporter asked if Eisenhower would care to elaborate on a statement in a recent magazine article that referred to a third term for himself.

"I have had a lot of fun out of that statement but it is a big if involved in that, followed by another if and still another if."

The conference started in mid-afternoon.

England And Russia Fail To Agree On Laos Session

GENEVA (AP) — Foreign ministers of Britain and the Soviet Union failed today to agree on arrangements for a 14-nation parley on the future of Laos and decided to postpone formal opening of the conference. It had been scheduled to start today.

Britain and the Soviet Union—co-chairmen of the conference—were unable to reach an agreement on which delegation should represent Laos at the table. The United States had refused to sit down for the talks unless this question was settled.

The United States had accepted a report from the truce commission in Laos that a cease-fire exists.

A spokesman for the British delegation said he still hoped the conference could start Saturday—but even that is not certain. The official spoke after British Foreign Secretary Lord Home held an hour-long conference with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

When the conference was called, Britain had said Laos would be represented by a coalition formed

Local outbreaks are still in evidence, the truce supervisors reported, but they said there is no way of controlling them.

WILL DEVELOP TROOP BADGE

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 70 will establish a "troop badge" and its design and requirements at a meeting this evening at the Aspen Lodge, Camp Happy Valley, at the start of a weekend troop camp.

Mrs. Harry Baker, leader for the troop, said that as far as she knows her unit will be the first in the county to establish a troop badge. Under new national Girl Scout rules a unit may set up a badge, give it a name and design and set the requirements, provided the requirements are as stringent as those listed for the regular badges offered in scouting.

When decisions are reached on the name and requirements for the badge it will become one of the requirements for next year's activities by the Scouts as they seek to achieve the Curved Bar award, highest in Girl Scouting.

Final plans for this weekend's camp were outlined Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the troop at Trinity United Church of Christ, S. Stratton St.

The members will report at the Aspen Lodge at Camp Happy Valley at 7 o'clock this evening and camp will conclude Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. During the encampment the activities will be based on completion of the First Class Scout requirements.

Leaders meeting with the Scouts Thursday were Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Ernest Overton and Mrs. John Bishop and the committee chairman, Mrs. Larry Parrish.

Auxiliary No. 27, Sons of Union Veterans, will meet at the post room Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Refreshments consisting of bean soup, ham salad sandwiches and dessert will be served prior to the meeting promptly at 7 p.m.

FRENCH CASE

Alvin Spangler, Littlestown R. 1, said his family and the Pittenturf family were returning from an evening of bowling at Edgewood Lanes when the fatal accident occurred three miles south of here on the Littlestown Rd. Spangler said his car was ahead of Pittenturf when a car coming from Littlestown veered across the highway and almost struck his car, veered back and then again turned across the road and struck the Pittenturf car.

Mrs. Pittenturf said her only recollection was seeing the Spangler car ahead veer to the left and "I said here is Alvin going, w'n his car started to go off the highway."

GAVE FALSE STORY
Spangler said that when he got out of his car he saw French lying face down on the highway beside his wrecked vehicle. "Then I went over to help the Pittenturf children out of their car and when I looked back again French was gone."

State Policeman Bernard Yantetti said he found "Mr. French sitting on the lawn at the Wilson Clapsaddle property about 500 yards north of the accident. I asked if he was hurt and checked him for bleeding and told him to get in the car and took him to the hospital for treatment. He said he was coming from the Two Mile Inn but said he didn't remember what happened and I let it go because I wanted to get him to a doctor."

State Policeman Clifford Lightner said French told him at the hospital that someone else was driving the car and said police spent some time searching for the other person supposed to have been in French's car until he later told them that no one had been with him.

6 HOURS IN TAVERNS

Witnesses were brought to the stand to show where French had spent time prior to the accident at 10:15 p.m. March 25. Their testimony started during the afternoon with him at the Blue Parrot and Rainbow Inn and later in the evening he was at the Two Mile and Trotting Inns.

District Attorney Teeter, summing up the testimony in his argument said: "We have him spending from six to seven and one-half hours in drinking establishments and according to his witnesses he had only one bottle of beer."

Jesse Ellicker, 141 S. Main St., Littlestown bartender at the Two Mile Inn, who said he knew French because French "as a friend of my son was in my house a number of times," said he refused to serve intoxicants to French at Two Mile Inn "because he was flagged two years ago."

Charles Gouker, Littlestown R. 2, who worked with French, said he met him at Two Mile Inn, went with French to Trotting Inn, returned with him to Two Mile Inn and was with him until 15 minutes before the accident when French left. Gouker said he was a "coffee and coke man" and drank nothing but soft drinks. French he said, had one beer only at the Trotting Inn. Charles K. Sentez Jr., Littlestown bartender at Trotting Inn, said he served only one bottle of beer to French.

French said he had visited the Blue Parrot and Rainbow Inn with relatives but drank nothing. He said he drank only the one bottle of beer during the evening. He said he played his guitar and talked at the Two Mile Inn.

When Gouker refused to go with him to the Silver Dollar, French said he decided to return home. He said he was rounding the curve near the bottom of a hill when lights of approaching cars blinded him. He said he got off the side of the road, sought to straighten out, got back on the highway and then his car again went off the berm. He said the car seemed to swerve by itself, crossed the highway and struck the Pittenturf auto.

He claimed the shock of the accident, knowing people had been

After June 15 the couple will reside at 253 Baltimore St. He will be associated with his father in the Chiropractic Health Offices, Emmitsburg. He is licensed in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

His parents attended the graduation exercises.

East Berlin

MRS. JANE MILLER

EAST BERLIN—The local VFW will present flags to the new Bermudian High School at dedication services Sunday. Saturday evening beginning at 10 o'clock the Novelaires will provide music for the dance. May 20 at 5:30 o'clock the post will take part in the Armed Forces Day parade in York. The following nominees will be voted upon May 25 at 8 o'clock for the home association officers: President, Paul Kopp, Richard Smyers; first vice president, Gene Swartz; second vice president, John Baker, Russell Fissel; officer-of-the-day, Robert Myers; secretary, Harry Rudisill, Willie Sloan; treasurer, Charles Spangler; director, David Krout, Irwin Gross, Ralph Haar, Russell Fissel; chaplain, William Emig, and trustee, Ralph Haar.

He killed, his injuries, which had rendered him unconscious at the scene of the accident and which included loss of blood from a badly cut ear, probably caused him to think at first that Gouker was still with him in the car, to stagger when the doctor examined him and to refuse Dr. Crist and police answers to some of their questions.

Dr. Gifford said French told him at the hospital that he had "10 or 12 bottles of beer" to drink. Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder testified that at the arraignment next day French told him he had "six to eight" bottles of beer to drink.

State police said French's car first left the highway 457 feet south of the fatal accident and then came back onto the road near the Spangler car, returned to the berm and eventually came back onto the road and struck the Pittenturf vehicle.

7 WOMEN ON JURY

Lewis Motter, Prince St., Littlestown, who had been driving south following the Pittenturf car immediately before the accident, said French's car was off the highway and "it looked like he made a left turn right into the Pittenturf car."

French had suggested that ruts "four to five inches deep" in a driveway off the east side of the road may have turned his car so that it crossed the highway and struck the other vehicle. Police said the marks of French's car showed it was turning onto the highway 40 feet before the driveway and was practically on the highway when it crossed the driveway.

The jury on the case includes John Clabaugh Sr., Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Violet Haar, New Oxford R. 1; Earl W. Harbaugh, Fairfield R. 1; Charles Heyser, Biglerville R. 1; Rita C. Horwedel, Hanover R. 4; Mary K. Inskip, Hampton; Charlotte Leer, York Springs R. 2; Mrs. Mary A. Menges, 213 Lincolnway East, New Oxford; Thomas R. Murren, Gettysburg R. 4; Stanley Reinecker, York Springs; Rita Walter, Gettysburg R. 5; and Mrs. Gloria Wiseman, 210 W. High St., New Oxford.

Some Skeptics Raise Doubt About Soviet's Astronaut; Nasa Says He Made Flight

Editor's Note—Ever since the Soviet Union reported that Yuri Gagarin had orbited the earth, there have been some doubters who refuse to accept the Soviet announcement as fact. This article gives the basis for their skepticism and presents also the view of others who see no reason for rejecting the Soviet version.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Did Yuri Gagarin really orbit the earth to become the world's first spaceman?

U.S. officials and scientists in the best position to know say they are sure he did, and on that basis President Kennedy cabled congratulations.

But skeptics raise a chorus of doubts, and cite numerous reasons. Moscow itself could stifle all skepticism, by supplying records, witnesses, and details of the flight to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale (FAI) in Paris which authenticates aviation and space world records.

NOT MANY DETAILS
On April 12, Moscow wired the FAI the names of the pilot and spacecraft, the Vostok, and said a space flight had been made.

The telegram gave no other details but did say supporting evidence would be forwarded within the required time limit of two months and eight days, said an FAI official who asked not to be quoted by name.

But to have claims authenticated, say aviation experts, Moscow would have to describe the model and type of spacecraft, the engine or engines, special apparatus aboard, the landing controls and the date, time and place of lift-off and landing.

It is highly debatable whether Moscow, which always has kept such information secret, will put it on open record now.

MEMBER WAS WITNESS
The United States, the FAI official said, also quickly advised about the flight of Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. He said the FAI expects to receive the supporting data within the required time.

Shepard's flight was held openly, and Jacques Allez, FAI president, was a witness at Cape Canaveral.

The Soviet Union can claim world records for duration of manned orbital flight (1 hour and 29 minutes out of 108 total minutes from lift-off to landing); altitude (110 to 180 miles); and for the greatest mass (five tons) lifted into orbit.

Orrtanna

ORRTANNA — A family night supper was served Saturday evening by the Women's Society of World Service of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church, taking the place of the mother-daughter and father-son banquet of other years. The program was opened by the president, Mrs. Dale Wetzel, and there was responsive reading in unison.

After a hymn, prayer was offered by Mrs. Paul Wetzel and Mrs. Gladys Spence presented the meditation. Scripture was read by Mrs. Zoe Haines and Mrs. Gladys Rebert. The call to worship was given by Debbie Sheaffer; "Home," Timothy Sheaffer; "My Mother's Love," Sherry McGlaughlin; "Prophecy," Vickie Haines; "Springtime," Suzy Metz; and the offering was received. A skit titled "Youth Left Out" was presented by this cast: Mother, Virginia Spence; father, Joyce Spence; son, Don Haines, and daughters, Carol and Jane Wetzel.

The president spoke briefly before the closing hymn and the closing prayer by the pastor, the Rev. Alfred Gotwalt. A covered dish supper was served.

THREE FORMER DHS PUPILS TO BE ORDAINED

Names of two additional former students at Delone Catholic High School who will be ordained into the priesthood by the Most Rev. George L. Leech, bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese, at ceremonies at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg, Saturday, May 20, at 10 a.m. were announced today.

They are Thomas R. Brenner, son of Mrs. Annie P. Brenner, Hanover, and Hugh A. Overbaugh, son of Mrs. Helen C. Overbaugh, 318 Ridge Ave., McSherrystown.

The name of Dale J. Sneideringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Sneideringer, Irishtown, New Oxford R. 1, had been announced previously.

FIRST MASSES AT HOME

They will celebrate their first solemn Masses in their home churches—St. Joseph's, Hanover; Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown, and Sacred Heart (Conewago Chapel), Edge Grove, respectively, Sunday, May 21.

Brenner, who attended Delone High School three years, entered St. Charles Seminary, Catonsville, Md., in 1952, where he studied three years and then entered St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, where he completed his priesthood studies.

He will celebrate his first Mass Sunday, May 21, at 11:30 a.m. with his pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles E. Park, serving as assistant.

Rev. Joseph F. Braubitz, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Abbotstown, will be deacon; Rev. Richard L. Zimmerman, assistant pastor at St. Joseph's, will be subdeacon, and Rev. Robert Grant, Norristown, a classmate, will serve as master of ceremonies.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Robert Gribbin, superintendent of Bishop McDevitt High School, Harrisburg.

GRADUATED IN '51

Dinner for his immediate family and friends will be served in St. Joseph's School cafeteria following Mass and an open reception will be held in the school auditorium the same evening. A solemn benediction at 7 p.m. will precede the reception.

Overbaugh, who was graduated from Delone High School in 1951, entered St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, in the fall of the same year where he completed his priesthood studies.

His pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee, will serve as deacon at his first solemn high Mass Sunday, May 21, at 11 a.m.

Overbaugh's brother, Rev. Lawrence R. Overbaugh, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Mt. Carmel, will be deacon and deliver the sermon, and a boyhood friend, Rev. Thomas J. Hemler, assistant pastor at St. Joseph's Church, York, formerly of McSherrystown, will serve as subdeacon.

An open reception will be held in the Annunciation Parish Hall the same afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. A dinner for Overbaugh's immediate family and friends will be served in the Delone school cafeteria following his first Mass.

RESCUE COW FROM WELL

A cow spent four and a half hours cooling her milk Thursday but it wasn't from concern about bacteria content.

Henry Miller found one of his prize Holsteins missing from his York County farm near East Berlin when he brought the herd to the barns at 9 a.m.

Miller and his wife searched high and low for the cow.

At noon Miller discovered he hadn't been searching low enough. Bossy had managed to crack a concrete slab and plunge into a well in a pasture next to the farm house.

The not so contented cow was floating on top of 18 feet of water in the 30-foot well.

Her plight presented the Miller's with the problem of how to extricate her from her sorry situation. They called East Berlin plumber Lynn Slothower to the scene, and he tried unsuccessfully to drain the well.

The East Berlin Fire Company in charge of Assistant Fire Chief Kurvin Kroul was summoned next. The fire pumper and the plumber managed to drain most of the water from the well leaving Bossy almost dry—if not very high.

The call was again sent for a tow truck to rescue the distressed animal.

A half-hitch was thrown about Bossy's flanks and she was unceremoniously hauled from the murky depths at 1:30 p.m.

Except for a few scratches, Bossy is apparently in good health. At last report she was contentedly chewing her cud—as a good Bossy should.

The population center of the United States in 1790, the first year of the census, was 23 miles east of Baltimore. The population of the nation that year was 3,929,422.

Eisenhower

morning and continued through luncheon, catered by the Hotel Gettysburg, and into late afternoon.

FIRST TO LEAVE

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who arrived late due to a previous engagement the night before in Michigan, was the first to leave. He emerged from the offices at 2:35 p.m. answered a few questions of reporters and then left town.

At 4:33 o'clock General Eisenhower and his former aides stepped onto the small porch. There was a cheer from 68 college boys and girls—some of them raincoated and bearing umbrellas and some shivering in bare feet—who had stood for over two hours to see the man who was giving their college more publicity than any football ever could.

With an apology for the pelting downpour which fractured the tradition that he always carries sunshine around with him, Eisenhower stepped briskly to the microphone to tell rain-soaked newsmen clustering about the steps that all was harmony within his administration's wing of the Republican party.

He added pointedly, however, that the GOP is reserving the right to criticize at the appropriate time. But this was not the time, he said, for divisive voices to be heard in the land.

Then, a reporter gave him an opening he seemed to be looking for by asking the former President what he and his advisers thought about the farm program submitted to Congress by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Freeman has proposed that farmers draft their own programs, subject to congressional veto.

With a broad grin, Eisenhower snapped out: "Our discussions left no doubt about it. We don't like it."

Will meet again. Some of his answers: Former secretary of labor James P. Mitchell, the new Republican nominee for governor of New Jersey, got a hand when he arrived late at the meeting and the former President hopes "he gets a hand when he goes out to campaign."

His group of advisers will meet with him from time to time to keep abreast of political developments. They won't try to dictate to the party.

All in all, his listeners came away with the impression that the former President, relieved of the burden of making national decisions, was turning with zest to the political field.

CUBS' EVENTS AT CAMPOREE

A special program for Cub Scouts and their parents will be held Saturday night, May 20, in connection with the Black Walnut Boy Scout District camporee at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, South Field Executive Stanley C. Rogers announced today.

The Cubs and their parents are invited to be at the fairgrounds at 5 o'clock on the evening of May 20, when each pack will hold a family picnic in a separate area at the fairgrounds. From 7 to 7:15 o'clock a retreat program will be held.

At 7:15 the Cubs and parents will join the Scouts and Explorers camped at the fairgrounds for a campfire program which will start with a demonstration of firearms safety by the Equalizer Gun Slingers Club of York. After that the Scouts and Explorers will present a number of skits.

Failure to include the dates May 19, 20 and 21 in a story of the camporee Thursday made it appear that the camporee would be held this weekend. It will be held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds May 19, 20 and 21.

ADOPT RULES FOR 4-H HORSE AND PONY SHOW

Rules and regulations were outlined at a meeting of the Adams County 4-H Light Horse and Pony Club in the REA building, rear of N. Stratton St., Thursday evening.

Denise Deeringer, assistant leader of the Ridgeview Pony Tail Unit, said that the club work will be divided into the following divisions: First year, novice and tenderfoot requirements, a written story on "Why I Joined 4-H," and the horse must be shown in the grooming and showmanship class; second year, junior horsemen requirements, a written story on "My 4-H Horse" and a horse shown in the grooming and showmanship class; third year, senior horseman requirements, a written story "What Belonging to the 4-H Horse Club Has Meant To Me" and the horse must be shown in the grooming and showmanship class.

Included in the rules and regulations are:

Meetings will be held as often as deemed necessary by the leaders; missing three consecutive meetings eliminates a person from the club; club dues $1 a year; members must be enrolled by June 1; registration cards must bear the name, name of horse and the name of the person who will compete in district events; all events entered in the county roundup must have completed novice requirements; must keep record books up to date.

LIMIT COMPETITION

Horse must be owned by member to enter district or state competition, ownership of the animal is not mandatory for local events; no horse may be shown in the western or English tack; stallions will not be allowed to compete in any class at roundup; all members must compete in the grooming and showmanship class at the county roundup; leaders will be elected each year following the roundup.

Sally Jackson, president of the Ridgeview Club, spoke of activities for the coming season. Cheryl Jackson also spoke briefly about what has been accomplished in her club in the past.

It was announced that a trail ride will be held May 20 at 10 a.m. starting from the Wilson Clapsaddle Little Valley Ranch.

The next meeting will be held June 8 in the West St. barn. Anyone interested in joining the club before June 1 may call Mrs. Lawrence Heltzer, R. 3; Wilson Clapsaddle, R. 1, or Duane Duncan at the agriculture extension office in the courthouse.

Shows held during the morning in the Pacific Northwest, the northern Rockies, sections of the Plains and in the middle and south Atlantic Coast states. No stormy weather was reported.

To Give Program For Mother's Day

The program was announced today for a Mother's Day program to be presented by the children of the York Springs Methodist Sunday School on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Donald R. Miller is the superintendent. Miss Ruth Guise and Mrs. John Millhimes Jr. are in charge of the program. The opening song "My Mother's Prayers" will be followed by a recitation "Each Day, Her Day" by Donna Jean Kemper; exercise "When We Stop to Think of It"; recitation "A Pal for Boys"; Gerald McCauslin; recitation, "Someone Special," JoAnn Hankey; songs by the children; recitation "Two Ladies I Adore," Michele Hinkle; recitation "Dressed Up," Ella Jean Baugher; song "Faith of Our Mothers"; recitation "The Mother of Boys," Freddie McCauslin, and "Tribute to Mother" by Sonya LaRue and Judy Bly.

Two Vehicles Are Damaged In Crash

A truck and a tractor-trailer were slightly damaged Wednesday in a collision on Route 94 at the intersection of the Oxford Rd., a mile south of Mt. Holly Springs.

The drivers were Roger S. Vance, 22, Gardners R. 2, who was operating a South Middleton Twp. truck, and Glenn R. Peterson, 35, Port Royal R. 1, who was operating the tractor-trailer, state police reported.

Police said both vehicles were traveling south on Route 94. Vance attempted to turn left into the Oxford Rd. as Peterson, who was following him, started to pass. The right front of the tractor struck the left front of the township truck, police said.

The drivers escaped injury and the total damage to the vehicles was placed at $150 by police.

Four Injured When Barge Breaks Pipe

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP)—Four men were injured Thursday night when the dredge barge George W. Catt ruptured a gas pipeline in the Houston ship channel and burst into flames.

The barge was pulled to safety. The fire raged for several hours before the gas supply could be turned off.

Reorganize YPE In New Oxford

The Young People's Endeavor of the New Oxford Church of God recently departmentalized their group into four sections and the following leaders were chosen: Mrs. Leatha Sloan, president; Mrs. Helen Mixon, 12 years and under; Mrs. Arlene Justice, ages 13 through 19; Mrs. Georgia Pate, ages 20 through 35, and Mrs. Ruth Rebert, 35 and over.

The group designated May as Children's Home month and have engaged a speaker for each Friday evening. At the last meeting in May, a "Miss YPE" will be chosen from the following girls: Miss Diane Justice, 6; Miss Patty Sloan, 7; Miss Nadene Pate, 7; Miss Billie Pate, 8, and Miss Carol Dorwin, 8. The proceeds of the contest will be sent to the Children's Home.

WANTS TIGHTLY KNIT, CENTRAL GOVERNMENT IN BELGIAN CONGO

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Coquilhatville political conference today published its first constitutional proposals, calling for a tightly knit Congolese federation with a strong central government.

The constitution would cover all the old Belgian Congo, including Katanga Province and the Lumbumbi Oriental and Kivu provinces. Neither Katanga nor the rebel Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga is represented at the conference.

Politicians at the conference—loyal to President Joseph Kasavubu of the central government—propose to establish a "Confederation of the United States of the Congo." Its capital, Leopoldville, would become a federal district such as Washington, D.C.

of the town's 6,250 residents if the rising Little Wabash River breaks through. Railroad cars and a river towboat barge were ready to remove people, livestock and personal belongings if the levee cracks. The river hit a record 38 feet.

MANY LEAVE HOMES

National Guard units joined volunteer workers in Carmi and in Lawrenceville where the Embarras River began to recede after threatening major flooding in the town. Water from the Kaskaskia River covered five blocks of the main street in New Athens and many of the town's 2,000 residents left their homes.

Gov. Kerner, in asking civil defense action, said that the state could not furnish all the aid needed by victims of the worst flooding since the early 1940s. Residents and businessmen of counties designated disaster areas by the Small Business Administration are eligible to seek loans at reduced interest rates.

After cresting Thursday, most rivers in Missouri dropped. The Mississippi at St. Louis crested at 33.2 feet, 3.2 feet above flood stage but far below the danger mark. The nation's biggest river has not been a serious menace in this spring's flooding.

ABOVE FLOOD STAGE

The Verdigris River at Claremore, Okla., was 12 feet above flood stage, a level topped only once, in May 1943. Along the Ohio River, flood waters were reported from Cincinnati to Cairo, Ill., at the juncture of the Ohio and Mississippi.

In Indiana, the overflows of the White and Ohio rivers and their tributaries forced some 600 families from their homes. About 150 families also were driven from their homes north of Evansville by the floodwaters of Pigeon Creek.

Shows held during the morning in the Pacific Northwest, the northern Rockies, sections of the Plains and in the middle and south Atlantic Coast states. No stormy weather was reported.

Says Pay Raises Go To Democrats

HARRISBURG (AP)—The $899 million General Appropriations Bill which passed the House last week and is awaiting Senate action includes a $13.5 million pay raise for state employees.

However, Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom said Thursday a substantial portion of the pay raise "will find its way into the Democratic war chest if the Lawrence administration has its way."

"These new millions that must be coughed up by Pennsylvania's hard-pressed taxpayers are supposed to be an incentive to state employees to give increased state services to the public," Bloom said, adding:

"Actually, it will make it easier for the Democratic Party's local chairman, many of whom are fattening at the public trough, to make their political collections from the 60,000 salaried state employees and the 16,000 on the wage payrolls (hourly and per diem workers)."

Says Dog Died From Jet's Sonic Booms

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Officials at Bergstrom Air Force Base have agreed to investigate the claim of Mrs. Harry H. Pokrant that her 12-year-old terrier died of a heart attack brought on by a jet's sonic boom.

Mrs. Pokrant said the terrier, T-Tex, was asleep inside the house last Thursday night when the noise of a jet breaking the sound barrier awakened the dog which was coming running to her, shivering violently, staggered, fell and died in a few minutes.

Four Injured When Barge Breaks Pipe

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP)—Four men were injured Thursday night when the dredge barge George W. Catt ruptured a gas pipeline in the Houston ship channel and burst into flames.

The barge was pulled to safety. The fire raged for several hours before the gas supply could be turned off.

Call Strike In Algiers Saturday

ALGIERS (AP)—European extremists today spread word calling for a general strike in Algiers Saturday—anniversary of a coup d'etat in 1956—and the government countered with orders for troops to shoot to maintain order.

French authorities, alarmed by the rising tension in Moslem and European quarters, appealed to the populace to spare the city a disaster.

Informants said European extremists plan to set fire to the Casbah, attack Moslems and Moslem housing areas in order to provoke Moslem rioting and thus compromise the government's Algerian policies.

On the surface, all was calm today.

WANTS TIGHTLY KNIT, CENTRAL GOVERNMENT IN BELGIAN CONGO

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Coquilhatville political conference today published its first constitutional proposals, calling for a tightly knit Congolese federation with a strong central government.

The constitution would cover all the old Belgian Congo, including Katanga Province and the Lumbumbi Oriental and Kivu provinces. Neither Katanga nor the rebel Stanleyville regime of Antoine Gizenga is represented at the conference.

Politicians at the conference—loyal to President Joseph Kasavubu of the central government—propose to establish a "Confederation of the United States of the Congo." Its capital, Leopoldville, would become a federal district such as Washington, D.C.

ENDING THIRD WEEK

The constitutional proposals were presented as a committee report to the full conference, now ending its third week of deliberations in the Congo River town of Coquilhatville.

Because the arrest of Katanga President Moise Tshombe left only Kasavubu's supporters at the conference, political analysts here reserved judgment about the constitutional proposals to see whether they have any chance of effective implementation.

Ostensibly, the proposals continue the work started last March in a round-table conference in Tananarive when the idea of a Congolese confederation first was advanced.

Since then, however, the central government has grown cool to the idea of a structure which would deprive it of considerable power and put effective authority into the hands of provincial leaders.

FATHER OF 65 HAS 12TH WIFE AT AGE OF 102

NEW YORK (AP)—Bearded Joseph B. J. Abraham, who said he was born in Jaffa, Palestine, more than 102 years ago, arrived today from Israel with his 12th wife. She is 43.

He said he was first married at 23 and that 65 children are "claimed to me." He explained: "I don't keep a list. My wife does. My oldest son is 79 years old."

Abraham said he formerly lived at 418 N.W. 3rd Ave., Miami, and was married there last year to Mary Jane Sarah White, a native of Muskogee, Okla.

"LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT"

Mrs. Abraham said she was a widow when she married Abraham, adding: "It was love at first sight. He's a very wonderful man."

Abraham said he heads a cult known as "The Calling of the 12 Tribes," directing it from his 200-acre farm near Baldwin in Lake County, Mich.

He said he has a 16-year-old son, Joseph, by a former marriage living in the Michigan town. His eldest son lives in Johannesburg, South Africa.

BORN IN 1858

Abraham carried a satin wood cane which he said came from the pyramid region of Egypt. He visited in Israel for five months.

He said he first came to this country about 55 years ago. He possessed an international driver's license issued in Philadelphia last Feb. 7, which listed his birth date as Sept. 27, 1858, and his home as Newark, N.J.

RESCUE 7 IN COMMY AREA

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A U.S.-piloted helicopter carrying seven American, Japanese, British and French newsmen crash-landed in the Communist rebel-dominated territory north of here today.

All were rescued half an hour later without incident or injury. The group included Associated Press photographer Fred Waters; John Dominis, Life magazine photographer; James Robinson of NBC; Ronald Preston of the London Times; Vital Sacharenko of the French News Agency; and two Japanese correspondents, Kenzo Nozue and Masaji Furuhashi.

The helicopter was with another flying newsmen to observe reported rebel artillery firing against Meo tribesmen in the mountain guerrilla center at Pa Dong near the Plaine des Jarres.

Two helicopters were about 20 miles due north of Vientiane, over a pocket where Pathet Lao were reported very strong, when the engine on one quit at 3,000 feet.

The craft plunged, supported by free whirling rotor blades as the pilot guided it to a hard landing on a rice paddy.

The newsmen were evacuated by the accompanying helicopter.

U. S. AID FOR VIET NAM IS ANTI-RED LIFT

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement that the United States intends to help South Viet Nam beef up its armed forces will stiffen anti-Communist backbones throughout Southeast Asia.

It is by no means a final answer to threats of Red expansion. It may only counterbalance militarily the rapidly expanding Communist operations in South Viet Nam.

But psychologically it comes at a critical time.

Morale sagged badly in Asian governments committed to the West after setbacks in Laos. To them and to some Western observers it looked as if the "row of dominoes" pattern was inexorably developing—first a Communist takeover in North Viet Nam, then Laos, then South Viet Nam and possibly Thailand.

WILL BLOCK REDS

Today's action, together with President Kennedy's March 23 statement, indicates the United States is not about to let this war-torn region go Red without lifting a finger.

Kennedy said March 23, referring to Pathet Lao military operations in Laos: "If these attacks don't stop, those who support a truly neutral Laos will have to consider their response."

South Viet Nam's position is far more dangerous than that in Laos. More men are involved and the dimensions of the Communist threat are greater.

A cruel war has been raging there for seven years. TELL OF FIGHTING

Last fall in an interview with this correspondent, President Ngo Dinh Diem outlined the grim details of fighting in the delta south of Saigon. He said he needed 40,000 more men to clean out the Communists. Incidentally, he has been saying that since 1957 when he talked in Washington.

South Viet Nam maintains an army of 150,000 men. There are perhaps 10,000 Vietcong irregulars operating in the delta region. Why can't the government forces with 15-1 superiority handle the problem?

There are three principal reasons—terrain, the ill-defined border with Cambodia, and Communist supply lines by sea and land that at best will be hard to choke off.

The delta area is half water, half land. It is crisscrossed with canals, marshes, swamps and lush jungle. Poor roads inhibit quick movement. The jungle provides hiding places.

This is a battleground tailor-made for hit and run operations. Guerrillas strike at a chosen objective and disappear before army pursuers can arrive on the scene. Superior weapons are of little use in such terrain.

GOING TO RUSSIA

BOSTON (AP)—Seventeen Americans will fly to the Soviet Union next Friday for informal talks with an unofficial group of Russians on Soviet-American relations.

Co-chairmen of the United States group will be Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, and Philip Moseley, of Princeton, N.J., as director of studies on the Council of Foreign Relations.

"THEY CAN'T DO THAT!"

FRANKLIN, W.Va. (AP)—Residents of this small community are up in arms today over word that the council is preparing to change the names of several streets.

5 Injured In Mishaps During Heavy Traffic: What was described by some observers as the heaviest weekend traffic since pre-war years rolled over the county's highways Saturday and Sunday leaving a toll of five injured in six accidents investigated by members of the local state police sub-station. The police also estimated there were "at least ten" other minor accidents in which damage was not extensive enough to call investigation officer.

British Bride Likes Weather In Gettysburg: Mrs. Betty Cranford Timmins, English bride of William T. Timmins, Jr., 30, Bedford Avenue, thinks Gettysburg has wonderful weather and is anxiously waiting for the summer's heat.

"In Somerset each year we have one warm day. Everybody marks that date on the calendar and calls it summer," she jokingly told a reporter for the Gettysburg Times.

There are several things about American that makes it a very pleasant place to be, says Mrs. Timmins, and at the top of the list are her parents-in-law along with her husband.

1,541 Persons Operated Upon In One Year At Hospital Here: Approximately 200 persons visited the Warner hospital Sunday afternoon to learn about hospital activities from the displays and exhibitions presented in celebration of hospital day and the 25th anniversary of the local institution.

During the tour of the hospital, conducted by Nurses' Aides and Red Cross Staff Assistants, visitors inspected every section of the hospital including the new Musselman annex now being built.

One part of Dr. J. L. Boyer's x-ray display was the fluoroscopic examination of one member of the human skeleton, beating heart, the contractions of the stomach, proved a laugh-provoking sight as well as an educational exhibit to the groups that gathered to watch.

Nazi Extermination Camp Operators Ordered To Hang: A general military court today sentenced 38 operators of the notorious Mauthausen extermination camp to hang. Three others were given life terms. The 61 defendants were sentenced after the American court found them guilty of murdering thousands of victims imprisoned by the Nazis in persecution.

The Court called the defendants one by one to hear their doom. This parade lasted 45 minutes. Each reading took 38 seconds and then the defendants were led away individually by

Today's Talk

YOU HAVE SOMETHING
If you have never read Emerson's essay on "Self-Reliance" you should not let another day go by without doing so. It is in itself a sufficient textbook for success. I have read and re-read this great work for years, yet every time I pick it up again I gain inspiration. Just take this sentence:

"A man should learn to detect and watch that gleam of light which flashes across his mind from within, more than the lustre of the firmament of stars and sages. Yet he dismisses without notice his thought, because it is his. In every work of genius we recognize our own rejected thoughts; they come back to us with a certain alienated majesty."

My friend, you have something! Find out what it is. Maybe it is a great idea, an original thought that may revolutionize the day in which you live, some ability to inspire countless numbers.

Find out what it is—then start giving it to the world. For no matter what you have, if you keep it it will shrink your soul. The only way a fine mind or character grows is by radiating.

Edison knew he had something when he gave to the world the electric light. Then he knew he had more—so he gave us the battery, and so many other great inventions and discoveries that it would take a good sized book to enumerate them all.

You have something, my friend. Feed it. Develop it. Then give it away! Again back to Emerson: "On-sist on yourself: never imitate. Your own gift you can present every moment with the cumulative force of a whole life's cultivation; but of the adopted talent of another you have only an extemporaneous, half possession. That which each can do best, none but his Maker can teach him."

You have something. Find out what it is.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Discovering Yourself"

Make Progress On Y Secretary: Satisfactory progress in procuring the services of a full-time secretary was reported at a regular meeting of the board of directors of the YWCA Monday afternoon by Mrs. Guile W. Lefever, chairman of the personnel committee and Mrs. Guyon Buehler, chairman of the finance committee.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Miss Margaret Myers, who was formerly chairman of the YWCA's library committee. The book collection was given to the county library and at that time the committee ceased to function. Mrs. C. C. Culp was elected a new member of the board and was appointed chairman of a publicity and literature committee.

Borough Sends 46 Notices Of Walk Repairs: Forty-six notices to owners of property in the borough ordering them to repair sidewalks, curbs, tree holes or driveways on their premises will be sent out within the next 24 hours by the borough secretary, Mrs. Wilmer Dracha.

The owners will have 30 days in which to begin repairs or notify the council of intention to begin the repairs. The secretary was directed by council Monday to send out the notices.

Seeks 3rd In Row At Downs Tonight

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Mrs. J. L. Norton's Jeff's Jet, winner of two straight claiming races at the Shenandoah Downs meeting, moves into allowance company tonight to meet five speedsters in the 6-furlong Pennsylvania Purse.

The Pennsylvania opens the next to last weekend of the 32-night spring meeting which closes May 20. It gains that have been evident throughout the session continue tonight. General Manager Bob Leavitt hopes for a $300,000 mutual handle.

Jeff's Jet, a three-year-old filly by Jet Master, has won two six-panel events under claiming tags of $3,000 and $3,500, but will meet tougher company in the sophomore lined up for the Pennsylvania.

Makes Sure Rocking Chair Union Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Carroll Kearns, R-Pa., was given a rocking chair Thursday, but he was more "cautious" about using it than President Kennedy.

First he checked with the manufacturer to make certain it was made by union labor. It was. Kearns sat down, leaned back, rocked and said:

"At least Carroll Kearns sits in a union-made chair. I think President Kennedy should change chairs."

Kearns referred to a letter that had been written by a union leader. The letter said that Kennedy's chair was made by non-union labor.

Kearns, who is the ranking Republican member of the House Labor Committee, remarked, "They say labor is against me—although I don't believe it."

AS THEY ALWAYS DO

Dreary and dull are the skies, my dear,
And cold is the month of May;
But the sun will shine and the roses bloom

And the clouds will pass away.
The air will ring with the song of birds,

The skies will again be blue,
And the sunbeams dance through the open door

The way that they always do.

The storms will pass and the cold winds cease,
And the frosts will disappear;
The stars will shine in the summer skies

And the moonlight shimmer here.

The hollyhocks will bloom in time,
And the honeysuckle, too,
The flowers and fruits will return again

The way that they always do.

So why do you fret and why do you grieve,
And where is your faith today?
Was ever a summer that failed to come,

A winter that lived for aye?
Was ever a sorrow that didn't pass

When the sunshine of joy burst through?

Ah, summer and pleasures will come again

The way that they always do.

Will Not Release Grand Jury Records

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Judge J. Cullen Gandy ruled Thursday that records of five grand juries which returned indictments in the electrical industry antitrust case may not be released.

Some 1,255 municipalities, the states of Pennsylvania, New York, California and Minnesota and the cities of Chicago and Philadelphia sought certain records to help them determine whether they should bring civil suits to recover possible excess payments to the electrical firms.

Gandy said such disclosures would upset the secrecy of the grand jury and noted a Supreme Court statement that to "make public any part of its (grand jury) proceedings would inevitably detract" from the efficiency of the grand jury system.

REPORT AT 12:30

Members of the Gettysburg baseball squad of the South Penn League are requested to report at the recreation park diamond Saturday at 12:30 for practice prior to their league game with Hagerstown at 2 o'clock. On Sunday the members, in uniform, will meet in front of the courthouse at 12:30 to go to Harney for another league game.

Declines Post In Kennedy Cabinet

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Arthur Sinkler, president of Hamilton Watch Co., confirmed today that he had been offered and had rejected a post as assistant secretary of the Army.

Sinkler said the offer had been made a short time after the inauguration of President Kennedy and that he had turned it down for personal reasons. He declined to say further on the subject.

Reliable sources in Washington said Thursday that Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara had made the offer.

LEARNS GUEST STARRING THE DIFFICULT WAY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—There are dangerous mines in the fertile fields of guest-starring on television programs, particularly in the variety shows.

Carol Channing, the tall comedienne with a devastating gift of mimicry, has visited all around the circuit and has learned about them the hard way.

"If I have my own show, I'll find me a writer or writers who I feel understand me and the way I work," she explained. "But if I'm a guest-star, I have the job of trying to get somebody else's writers to produce material that I can work with. When I'm on somebody else's show I have to get this across not only to the writers, but to the show's wardrobe department, the hair-dresser, the directors and everybody else."

OFTEN DIFFICULT
This is often difficult, Carol concedes, and her material sometimes suffers because of a widespread belief among writers, particularly, that all tall women comics should be sarcastic and capable.

Rainouts Jumble MAC Title Races; Bullets Must Beat Lafayette

How important is a rainout of baseball game in the collegiate ranks?

For Coach Bob Hulton's Gettysburg Bullets, it can be quite important, in fact it could mean a championship. Gettysburg is currently in first place in the Middle Atlantic Conference, Northern Division, with a 6-2 record. Juniata is sporting a 5-2 slate, but has less games than the Bullets and all other title contenders have lost three or more games.

Under the present rules of the MAC, a team, such as Gettysburg, must play five games in its own division and must face eight different opponents overall before the cut off date of May 15.

MUST PLAY, WIN

The Bullets have played their eight different opponents, but started the week needing only one game in three to be eligible for the title. On Monday the Wilkes game was cancelled because of rain. The Muhlenberg game scheduled for Wednesday was postponed until Thursday, but once again rain fell cancelling the contest. Gettysburg has now reached a do-or-die situation. It has one game remaining, Lafayette Saturday afternoon at 2:30 on the Bullets' diamond. Gettysburg must play the game and must win in order to be considered for the title. The die is cast.

Following the May 15 cut off date, the winners of the Northern and Southern Divisions will clash on the Southern Division's field to establish the MAC representative in the NCAA district playoffs. The date of the MAC championship game will be announced at a later date.

GOLFERS DROP TWO MATCHES

In a triangular golf match at Newark, Del., Thursday, the Gettysburg College linksmen lost to Drexel and Delaware by identical scores of 9½-8½. Drexel also nipped Delaware 11-7.

Summaries of the Gettysburg-Drexel match:

John Rogers, G., defeated Jack Leoney (2-1).

Russ Lehman, D., defeated John Hayes (2-1).

George Markley, G., defeated Jim Hanley (2½-1½).

George Shaeffer, D., defeated Chuck Johnson (2½-1½).

Wayne Chambers, G., def. Ron Bales (2-1).

Lee Habecker, D., defeated Bill Frakat (2½-1½).

SPORTS AGAIN RAIN VICTIM

Another knockout blow was struck the local sports program by rain on Thursday. Several events were rescheduled for today but appeared headed for another rainout.

In the South Penn Scholastic Baseball League the Gettysburg-Hanover game at Hanover was rescheduled for May 23 but will be played only if it has a bearing on the title picture. Chambersburg and Waynesboro relisted their game at Waynesboro today.

Both Adams County League games were postponed. Fairfield planned to play at Berks today while the Littleton-New Oxford game was set back to next Wednesday at York.

Delone and York Catholic rescheduled their game for today at McSherrystown. The Squires come here Monday to meet the Gettysburg High Warriors.

The Mt. St. Mary's baseball-tennis program at Western Maryland was also rained out.

The Gettysburg Freshman ball game listed for today at Frederick was cancelled this morning.

The Hampshire Inter-Library Center in the Connecticut Valley of Massachusetts is jointly operated by four colleges—Amherst, Mount Holyoke, Smith and the University of Massachusetts. The center is a research library for the use of faculty and advanced undergraduates.

WANTS PUBLIC HEARINGS ON TRACK ISSUES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The chairman of the State Harness Racing Commission, thinks there should be public hearings on 13 applications for track licenses. He is surprised the idea "has created a furor."

Lawrence B. Sheppard said in a statement Thursday, "the public is entitled to know if anybody is covering up and for whom" in the award of track licenses.

He called for the hearings at a commission meeting Monday after his motion that 12 applications be approved had not been seconded.

ONLY REPUBLICAN

He and Commissioner Edward Kane, a Democrat, were the only commissioners at the meeting. The third, Martin Cusick, a Democrat, was absent. Sheppard is a Republican.

Sheppard called for the hearings under a harness law that gives applicants the right to request a public hearing within 10 days after their applications are refused.

But following the meeting Deputy Atty. Gen. Harry Rossi, counsel for the commission, said that under the rules of procedure at meetings of public agencies motions that are not seconded do not exist. As a result, the applications pending were neither refused nor granted.

GRANTED ONE LICENSE

On April 5 the commission, over Sheppard's objections, granted a license to the Liberty Bell Raceway Corp., an organization headed by James P. Clark, Philadelphia Democratic finance chairman. It was the first and only license granted so far by the commission.

In his statement Sheppard said his objective at the Monday meeting "was to get action upon the basis of complete and publicly revealed facts from which considered judgment could be made as to those best fitted to be granted the licenses allowed by law."

After issuing the statement, Sheppard departed for Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

INDIANAPOLIS SPEED TRIALS MAY SEE MARK

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A possibility of track records, two spectacular "rookies" and the constant threat of disaster will pull upwards of 100,000 speed buffs to the huge Indianapolis speedway Saturday for the opening session of time trials for the golden anniversary 500-mile race May 30.

It will be only the first of four qualifying days but the most popular because the faster driver-car combinations usually make the 10-mile runs as early as possible. The first session also establishes the pole car, the inside starter in the three-car front row, regardless of later performances.

The 33 fastest qualifiers of 60 entrants will make up the 500 field.

SHOOTING AT RECORD

They will be shooting at a record average of 149.056 miles an hour made last year by newcomer Jim Hurtubise of Lennox, Calif., who also set a one-lap record of 149.601. The entire 1960 field qualified at a record average of 144.070.

It may be about time for another fresh face in the winners' circle and best prospects among the newcomers are Jack Brabham of Australia, world road racing champion the last two years, and Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., champ of the Midwest high banks last year.

It's traditionally a Speedway veterans' race, however, and Saturday's main record challengers probably will be such old timers as Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., who has been over 149 m.p.h. in practice; Jim Rathmann; Rodger Ward of Indianapolis, the 1959 winner; Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa.; A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., last year's USAC big car champion; Troy Ruttman, Dearborn, Mich., the youngest 500 winner in 1952 at the age of 22, and Don Branson, Champaign, Ill.

TIGERS START 18-GAME TOUR AT NEW YORK

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit's no longer tepid Tigers, who have won eight out of nine on the road so far, start an 18-game tour with a 2½-game lead in the American League race to-night when they open a four-game series at New York against the second place Yankees.

If this grand circuit trip — through the East and the Midlands en route to the West Coast — is to test Detroit's pennant potential, an ingredient the Tigers haven't made pay off since 1945, they couldn't have picked a better place to start. The defending champion Yankees have won six in a row at home since an opening defeat by Minnesota.

In the National League, where San Francisco leads Los Angeles by one game, the Giants open a brief home stand against Milwaukee and southpaw Warren Spahn. Right-hander Sad Sam Jones (3-1) goes for San Francisco.

LARY WILL PITCH

Right-hander Frank Lary (4-1) is manager Bob Scheffing's starting choice against the Yankees and right-hander Art Ditmar (2-1). Lary's magic against New York set up Detroit's seventh defeat in 25 games Thursday, however, Scheffing held back his ace, giving bullpen man Bill Fischer, Lary's regular place in the rotation, and Washington belted the Tigers 9-4.

Baltimore got past Minnesota 8-7 in the only other game scheduled in the majors.

The Senators busted loose for six runs in the fifth inning at Detroit with Billy Klaus socking the second grand slam home run of his career. Gene Woodling and Dale Long also homered for the Senators.

Baltimore broke up a 2-2 tie at Minnesota with a five-run fifth, getting three on Jim Gentile's double. But it was a bases-loaded walk by reliever Paul Giel in the eighth that gave the Orioles the run they needed. Camilo Pascual (2-3) lost his third in a row. Steve Barber (4-2) won it, with relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm. Don Mincher homered for the Twins.

James Leech, Gettysburg R. 5, an employee of the Gettysburg News and Sporting Goods Store, landed an eight-pound, two-ounce rainbow trout while fishing south of Beechertown in the Conewago Creek Thursday morning. The fish measured 27 inches long. Leech used a three-pound test leader and Nepps spinner to haul in his prize. This is one of the largest trout ever caught in Adams County. Leech also landed a 12-inch trout while fishing in the Conewago.

KEL NAGLE HAS 3-STROKE LEAD AT FT. WORTH

By MIKE COCHRAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Mild-mannered Kel Nagle, in the midst of a money-winning draught, sported a substantial lead today as a star-studded field teed off in the second round of the $40,000 Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament.

The jovial Australian rocked the challenging course on its heels Thursday with a sizzling five-under par 65 highlighted by a hole-in-one on the par 3 13th.

The sensational round left Nagle, 40, three shots ahead of veterans Arnold Palmer and Ben Hogan and National Amateur champion Deane Beman at 68.

Hogan's two-under-par score opened his bid for a sixth Colonial championship, worth $7,000 this year.

TRIO AT 69

Another trio of veterans was grouped at 69, including former champion Mike Souchak, of Grosinger, N.Y., who was deadlocked with Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., and Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif.

Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., was a stroke ahead of 11 players bunched at 71.

Nagle, who slapped a 2-iron in the 195-year 13th hole, was all smiles as he termed his 65 the most sensational round of his career. The ace was the first in the 15-year history of the 72-hole tournament.

Player, the tour's leading money winner with $47,796.58 of official earnings, was in and out of traps all day and wound up nine shots back at 74.

Nixon In First Golf Tournament

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon limped off an airplane here Thursday and seemed surprised at reporters' inquiries.

"Limp? That's no limp. My foot fell asleep on the plane," smiled the former vice president. "But after the tournament, maybe I'd welcome a sore knee as an excuse."

He motored to Pebble Beach, where today he'll play in his first golf tournament, an invitational member-guest affair. He's paired with Charles de Young Thieriot, editor and publisher of the San Francisco Chronicle.

He has an 18 handicap.

Littlestown Lodge Of Eagles Will Celebrate Its Silver Anniversary

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Littlestown lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will be celebrated from May 13 to 20.

This aerie, appropriately known as "The Small Town Aerie With Big Time Program" thrives in a community of 3,000 people. It was organized on May 26, 1936, in the Alpha Fire Company building with 102 charter members. Class initiation was held in St. Aloysius Hall with the John W. Young degree team, of Hanover, in charge of the rituals. One of the men most responsible for the organization of the lodge, who served as its first secretary, was George L. Maitland, who passed away a few months ago.

The first officers of the new organization were: President, George G. Collins; vice president, Edward Utz; secretary, George L. Maitland; treasurer, Kenneth Jones; conductor, Budd Cummings; inside guard, Paul E. Altoff; outside guard, Ivan Rickrode; trustees, John P. McSherry, Dr. H. E. Gettler, and Thomas F. Rider.

32 RETAIN CARDS

Of the original 102 charter members, 32 still retain their membership: Paul E. Altoff, Budd Cummings, Ivan Rickrode, John P. McSherry, who were officers; Karl P. Bankert, Wilbur A. Bankert, James U. Bowers, William L. Burgoon, Celsus Collins, E. Lester Collins, William K. Ebaugh, Robert J. Eckenrode, Donald W. Feeser, Paul E. Hiltz, George A. Kress Sr., Edward G. Loeffel, Monroe G. Morelock, Franklin R. Shuff, James F. Smith, Roy E. Smith Sr., Paul R. Snyder, Amos L. Spangler, Harold W. Sparver, Kenneth Sparver, Kenneth Stair, Monroe J. Stavelly, Kenneth L. Steick, Stanley B. Stover, Melvin P. Strayer, Dale E. Weaver, N. Harry Wolf and William J. Yingling. Thirty-seven of the charter members are deceased, including the first president and the first secretary, and the remaining 33 have moved away or dropped this membership.

PAYS SEVERAL BENEFITS

Since its inception, the aerie headquarters have been located at 27 W. King St., in the former residence of Luther D. Snyder. The aerie purchased the building in 1942 for $9,000. In 1951, an addition was built to the home, 42x56 feet, at a cost of $40,000. With this enlarging and remodeling ample space was provided for the members for recreation facilities, for banquets, meetings and dances.

The aerie pays weekly sick and accident benefits, in addition to death benefits, to its members. Since 1936, the unit has paid out over $60,000 in benefits.

The present membership is 1,010, with assets totaling more than $100,000. In 1957 a class of 127 was installed. This class was named in honor of Littlestown's first state officer, Bernard M. Selby, who has since passed away as the result of an accident.

MISS PHILLIPS NEW PRESIDENT OF JR. WOMEN

Miss Janet Phillips was elected president of the Junior Woman's Club of Littlestown at the May meeting Wednesday evening in the social room of the Eagles Home, W. King St. Others named to office at the annual election were: First vice president, Mrs. Kent E. Daum; second vice president, Mrs. Paul F. Boller Jr.; recording secretary, Mrs. Jay Showvaker; assistant recording secretary, Miss Shirley Leister; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Study; assistant treasurer, Miss Nancy Oaster; corresponding secretary, Miss Betty Eckenrode; historian, Mrs. Donald Cook. Mrs. Jack E. Rebert reported for the nominating committee, which also included Mrs. Herbert J. Sell, Mrs. Donald Cook, Mrs. Larry E. Sheets and Miss Betty Eckenrode. Installation will take place at the June 14 meeting.

The session was conducted by Mrs. Woodrow D. Crabbs, president, and opened with the pledge to the flag and the Junior Woman's Club collect. Mrs. Jack a favorite almost since the aerie was organized. Originally, each child received a gift; more recently the children are guests of the local theater management at a movie and are then treated to giant candy bars and oranges by Santa Claus, courtesy of the Eagles. More than a thousand children are reached every holiday season, including those at the Hoffman Home and the Paradise Protectors. Christmas cheer baskets are also distributed to the less fortunate families of the aerie and the community.

A Ladies' Auxiliary was organized in 1951 and now has a membership of more than 100. Meetings are held the first and third Wednesday of each month. Current officers of the auxiliary are: Junior past madam president, Pauline Harner; madam president, Ruth Fuhrman; madam vice president, Evelyn M. Stavelly; madam chaplain, Marjorie Schaeffer; madam conductor, Mary Selby; secretary, Ruth Crouse; treasurer, Rita Hoke; inside guard, Anna Mellem; outside guard, Ruth Wolf; trustees, Florence Sheely, Helen Weaver and Ruth Hoke.

DONATE TO CHARITY
"Service, People Helping People" is the watchword of the Eagles and both the Littlestown Aerie and its auxiliary have proven themselves along these lines. Over $2,000 has been donated to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund, one of the main projects of the auxiliary, and various other funds have benefited from their generosity. The auxiliary also provides five walkers and a dozen pair of crutches for use of individuals in the community who need these services.

Donations to various charities since 1936, by the aerie, have reached a total of $27,000. The aerie supports all local fund drives and all Eagle projects; their contributions reach nearby hospitals, the cancer, heart, polio and tuberculosis funds; Chapel of Four Chaplains, Home on the Range and Boys Town, all Eagles projects; the local fire company and community ambulance drives, the Boy and Girl Scouts; Little League, etc. Donations are made to local schools for band and patrol uniforms. Brownie and Girl Scout dance parties are held twice monthly, with the aerie providing music and refreshments, at the home, from October through April each year.

SPORTS BANQUETS
The varsity players on the football, basketball and baseball teams, with their coaches, are guests at a sports banquet every other year, financed jointly by the aerie and the local Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A Christmas party for the children of the community has been Rebert, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Geisler, treasurer, gave their reports. Mrs. Crabbs read communications, which included an invitation to attend open house at the Littlestown State Bank on May 17 and 18; appreciation from Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert, Mrs. L. Walter Coble, Mrs. Everett Sanford, Mrs. Fred W. King and others, when the club was hostess to the South Central District of Junior Woman's Clubs for the meeting on April 19 in the Rolling Acres Elementary School.

Mrs. Richard N. Greenholt gave a resume of proceedings at the district luncheon session here. Thanks were read for recent donations to CARE, Women's Medical College, and the Latin American Fund. Mrs. Richard E. Barnes reported on the Easter egg hunt held for the children of members in April.

Miss Phillips, chairman of the cheer committee, read notes of thanks from Mrs. Clyde W. Crouse, Mrs. Jay R. Crouse, Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr., Mrs. Edward L. Warner and Mrs. Jack Rebert for club remembrances.

TO SPONSOR CAMPERS

It was decided that the club will sponsor two young people, each from a different church in the community, to summer church camp this year. Details on this project will be announced later. Mrs. Daum reported on the cancer drive in the community and thanked all who helped with the recent solicitation. The Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity will continue to make cancer bandages and the junior club will provide transportation to the cancer clinic. Those volunteering transportation should contact a member of the committee, Mrs. Dean W. Bankert, chairman. Mrs. Conrad C. Hull, chairman of the lot-ot committee, reported on the present condition of the play area.

Card tables are being made available through Geisler's Furniture Store to anyone joining the club's merchandise club. May 19 is the deadline for joining the club by notifying Mrs. Donald C. Feeser. There was a report on the Mother's Night affair on May 3 when the members entertained their mothers or mothers-in-law at a play at the Hanover Little Theater and refreshments. The guests received pins as gifts that evening. The project of providing transportation for a local dental patient to Harrisburg has been completed. Mrs. Crabbs reported on the community center plans and asked for volunteers to assist with the solicitation of funds from the public in June.

Plans were made to hold a food sale on Friday, May 26, at the engine house. The committee in charge of general arrangements includes Mrs. Bernard G. Kebil and Mrs. Edward Warner, co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Morgret, Mrs. R. Kenneth Boyd, Mrs. Otto C. Sells and Mrs. Kent Daum. An invitation was accepted from the Allied Veterans Council to participate in the community Memorial Day parade on May 29 and Miss Theresa Krichen and Mrs. Joseph McMaisters are in charge of arrangements.

PLAN OUTDOOR MEETING

Mrs. Bernard Kebil was appointed delegate to the Pennsylvania State Federation convention in Harrisburg, May 17, 18 and 19. Additional information on this convention can be secured from Mrs. Crabbs. It was decided that those who have not paid the 1960-1961 club dues by June 9 will be automatically dropped from the roll. The jackpot was received by Mrs. Crabbs.

It was announced that the annual outdoor meeting will be held Wednesday, June 14, 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Greenholt, E. King St. The program will be in charge of the fine arts Nancy Oaster, chairman. Mrs. Donald Cook, Mrs. Wilmer Dutler, Mrs. Conrad Hull, Mrs. Charles Kump, Mrs. Clarence L. Schwartz Jr., Mrs. Robert Reisinger, Miss Theresa Krichen, Mrs. Francis I. Gerriek, Miss Betty Eckenrode, Miss Shirley Leister and Miss Dolores Hawk.

Guests of the evening introduced were Mrs. Nevin Rabenstein, Mrs. Stanley Mummert, Mrs. Robert Epley, Mrs. Gilbert Evans, Mrs. Lawrence Huff, Mrs. Michael Cookson, Mrs. Daniel Reigle, Mrs. Thomas Orndorff, Mrs. Fred Busbey and Mrs. James Myers.

A demonstration in plastic wares, arranged by the executive board, was then presented in charge of Mrs. Mary Ruth Nott, Hampstead. The guest demonstration was introduced by Mrs. Dale Moose. Orders were received and may be placed with Mrs. Moose until June 1. The items ordered will be distributed at the June meeting.

Refreshments were served during the social hour. A coffee social preceded the business.

The bald eagle has been a part of the United States official seal since 1782.

LEGION WOMEN VOTE DONATION TO NEW CENTER

A mother-daughter covered dish supper was enjoyed prior to the monthly business meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, on Wednesday evening at the post home, E. King St.

The session was in charge of Mrs. James W. Fager, president, and opened with the pledge to the flag; songs "Mother" and "Stars Spangled Banner," by the group; prayer, Miss Beulah Wintode, chaplain; preamble; roll call; report, Mrs. Vernon H. Study, acting secretary; report, Mrs. Ivan D. Rickrode, treasurer. Mrs. Fager, as community service chairman, reported that crutches are available, but no beds or wheel chairs at the present time, and as coupon chairman, she announced that 2,070 coupons were sent in to the department in April.

Mrs. Robert W. Gouker, representing the auxiliary on the community committee, spoke concerning the latest developments in establishing the center and asked that six members volunteer to assist with the financial drive solicitations. The unit voted a contribution of $25 to the community center fund. Other donations voted were $5 to cancer and $2.50 multiple sclerosis. Thanks were read from the post for the gift presented by the unit at the birthday banquet program of the Legionnaires. The president announced that the veterans memorial poppies will be sold in town this year by the VFW Auxiliary, which alternates with the Legion Auxiliary. The unit received an invitation from the Allied Veterans Council to participate in the community Memorial Day parade on Monday, May 29, at 6:45 p.m.

The next quarterly meeting of the Four-County Council will be held Thursday, June 1 in McConnellsburg, and persons wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Fager. Mrs. Leroy Bidleman and Mrs. Alvin R. Bailey are candidates for department president this year, as announced by Mrs. Fager. A note of thanks for cards and plants was read from Mrs. Claude Wintode. The meeting concluded with prayer for peace and the singing of "America."

The program consisted of three readings, "A Mother's Creed," Mrs. Vernon Study; "A Child's Creed," Miss Beulah Wintode; "Answer to a Mother's Prayer," Mrs. Mary Gail Gouker Becker. Potted plants were presented to the oldest mother, Mrs. B. Roy Kebil; the youngest mother, Mrs. Norman Sentz, and the mother with the most daughters present, Mrs. Howard O. Myers. A group contest was won by Mrs. Ralph Conover.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting on Wednesday, June 14, when the hostesses will be Mrs. F. L. Will and Mrs. Ruel Schwartz.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Walter F. Crouse, Mrs. John F. Feeser Jr. and Mrs. William M. Ebaugh will serve as hostesses at the May meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingsdale Fire Company No. 1 at 8 p.m. on Monday in the engine house along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd.

The Young Women's Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will meet at 8 p.m. on Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert R. Reinman, 150 E. King St., instead of at the church. Each member is asked to bring an item for a white elephant party. Mrs. Wilmer Dutler and Mrs. Lewis H. Fox will assist Mrs. Reinman as hostess.

The first sugar beet factory was built by Franz Karl Achard in Silesia in 1802, with the aid of the King of Prussia.

Witness Says He Cannot Estimate Number Slain In Concentration Camps

By THOMAS A. REEDY
JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — A German-born Jew who lived through three Nazi extermination camps as a boy today told the court trying Adolf Eichmann he saw so many deaths he could not even estimate the number.

Mordechai Ansbacher, now 34 and employed in Israel's official archives, described life and death in Theresienstadt, Auschwitz and finally Dachau—an existence of horror which started for him in 1941 and ended only when the Allied armies opened the gates of Hitler's concentration camps in April, 1945.

Eichmann is charged with administering the Nazi program that resulted in extermination of six million Jews. After weeks of testimony on the pogroms in occupied countries of Europe, the Israeli prosecution turned today to the Nazi war on the Jews at home, in Germany.

STARTED IN 1939

Ansbacher's wanderings started in January 1939, when his family sent him to Belgium with other young Jews from his home city of Wuerzburg. Then he fled from the Nazi invasion to Calais, only to be caught in the blitzkrieg of Dunkerque.

Taken back to his home in Bavaria, Ansbacher with his mother and brother shared the anti-Jewish measures calculated to bring about poverty and fatal disease until they were swept up in a roundup. He and his mother were shipped to Theresienstadt and his brother to Auschwitz. Mordechai was the only survivor.

"DIED LIKE FLIES"

In Theresienstadt "the Jews died like flies," Ansbacher said. Everyone in Theresienstadt became a ragged skeleton, the witness continued.

Night after night the worry of being chosen for transport eastward gnawed. Ansbacher's turn finally came just before the Jewish New Year of 1944. He was sent to Auschwitz but remained there only 10 days.

"Then I was shipped to Dachau," he said, adding that "all the schooling" he had experienced in the Nazi camps now was a vital necessity in preserving life and sanity.

"We decided that two or three of us should band together as the best way to keep alive," he said.

STAND ALL NIGHT

On arrival at Dachau, thousands were lined up for roll call, naked and half dead with the cold, rain and sleet of the German November.

The inmates had to stand the night through. Many dropped over dead.

It was the closing weeks of the war and the Nazi guards didn't even bother to dispose of the dead. Bodies were piled high and

PHONEY CREDIT SPEED RESULTS IN JAIL TERM

PATCHOGUE, N. Y. (AP) — A Long Island carpenter rigged up a phony credit rating of $687,988 and went on a buying binge, police report.

He was heavily in debt and trying desperately to stall off bill collectors, police explained, and he figured that no one would press a man so rich for payment of back bills.

The carpenter never tried to get delivery of any of the luxuries he ordered. Police listed some of them as arrangements with a travel agency for two round-the-world trips for the man, his wife and three children for a total of $70,000; six expensive automobiles, and two speedboats costing $15,000 each.

STOLE LETTERHEAD

Word of the free-spending rich man got around, and three business men in the area approached him for loans totaling $475,000.

Police said he went to the Suffolk County Federal Savings & Loan Association a year ago and applied for a small loan. While in the office, he snatched a letterhead of the association. On it he wrote a credit letter attesting that he had $687,988 on deposit with the association, and he displayed the letter in ordering the cars and boats and trips.

The carpenter, Attilio Santoro, 47, of Shoreham, N.Y., was arrested Thursday. He pleaded guilty in Town Court to a charge of disorderly conduct and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. It was noted that his manipulations did not bring him any actual financial returns.

Mummasburg

MRS. FLORENCE WILSON

MUMMASBURG—Mr. and Mrs. Galen Shank, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Garrett, Hanover, were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Shue and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Martin and family, Mt. Wolf, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. Martin's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Martin, and family.

Miss Margaret Himelright and Dale Ogburn visited relatives near Washington, D. C., last Sunday.

stacked like cordwood at the gates, which bore big signs "Arbeit macht frei" (work brings freedom).

INTRODUCE DOCUMENTS

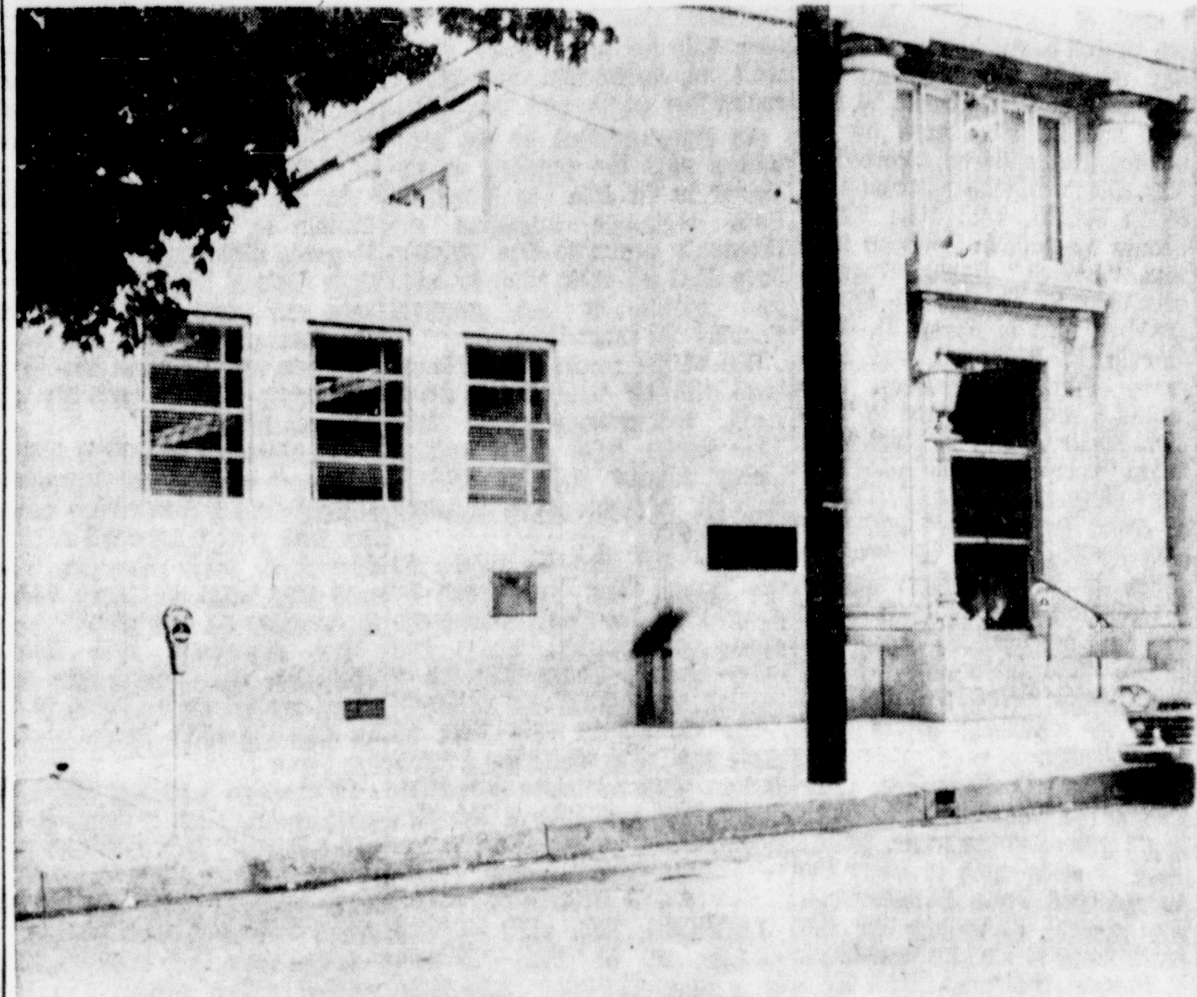

That was the scene when the American troops rolled up to the gates.

The prosecution later introduced a series of documents linking Eichmann's office to the varying stages of Jewish persecution in Germany.

The court adjourned at 11:03 a.m. until Monday.

The flood of documentary evidence wound up the fifth week of the trial and just about concluded the story of how Hitler's Reich proceeded from one persecution after another to the "final solution"—extermination.

Littlestown State Bank, Trust Company Plans For Open House May 17, 18

The directors and officers of the Littlestown State Bank and Trust Company have issued an invitation to the "open house" at the bank building on S. Queen St. on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 17 and 18, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

The construction program for new and modern facilities for better banking, which are nearing completion, will provide lobby space and install one more teller's window, bringing the total to 11. With the installation of the new and modern front doors, eliminating the former double door entrance, much needed room has been provided in the lobby and is already being utilized.

To insure privacy for customers, three new private offices are being provided for officer consultation. Four safe deposit box rooms are also provided for the convenience of safe deposit box renters.

A complete new east wing was attached to the main office building and the former Emma Duttera property, which the bank acquired. This room will be used entirely by the bookkeeping department to render more efficient service. It is now possible for the bank to install a new and modern "postronic bookkeeping" system, which will greatly improve the services of the bookkeeping department.

The new construction will also make it possible to have a private installment loan department, under the supervision of the Vice President Warren C. Harner. The lower floor of the Duttera property has been designed to accommodate the newly created trust department.

The bank just recently acquired trust powers and the board of directors has named Wilbur A. Bankert as trust officer and Warren C. Harner as assistant trust officer. The new trust department facilities are completely separate from the commercial bank department.

Farmers' Group Has 448 Members

John Pitzer, county organizational director for the Adams County unit of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association, said today the county organization now has 448 members, an increase of 30 over last year. The state PFA claims an all-time high membership of 10,160. It is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation which describes itself as the largest farm organization in the world.

"PFA policies are made by and for farmers and only farmers can hold office and vote," Mr. Pitzer said. The PFA program includes legislative, education and business services and a farm program "that will make it possible for farmers to earn and get a high per family real income."

Pitzer said "a large majority of farmers in Pennsylvania are against quotas, controls and government planning." He said House Bill 6400 now before Congress "will impose quotas, penalties, payments and limitations and will lead to complete government control of individual farmers, thus reducing markets, increasing government costs and lowering farmers' income. A change in the direction of agricultural policy is long overdue but the changes in the proposed administration bill go in the wrong direction."

SELL 4 PROPERTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McKonley, Berwick Twp., sold a property in that township for $450 to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Slaybaugh, Mt. Pleasant Twp.

Howard B. Saum, Franklin Twp., sold a property in that township for $10,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Cleason A. Herring, Fairfield.

Elsie E. Shoemaker, Littlestown, sold a property in Littlestown for $13,500 to Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Harner, Littlestown. Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich M. Mecke, McSherrystown, sold a property in that borough for $13,500 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Conrad, McSherrystown.

partment. The Littlestown State Bank and Trust Company can now render complete commercial banking and trust services.

ACQUIRED BRANCH

The entire bank is now fully air conditioned for the convenience and comfort of the patrons.

The Littlestown State Bank began operation on April 1, 1955, with total resources of $366,630. Total resources, after 26 years in business, are now over $12,000,000. Recently there was a successful conclusion to the sale of 10,000 shares of capital stock which was oversubscribed.

The Farmers' Bank branch in McSherrystown was acquired on January 1, 1955, and plans have already been completed to enlarge the branch office by rearranging the counter, thus adding another teller's window.

BANK'S OFFICIALS

Officers of the Littlestown State Bank and Trust Company are Luther D. Snyder, chairman of the board; Wilbur A. Bankert, president; Ralph D. Bowman, Chester S. Byers, Evelyn C. Altoff and Warren G. Harner, vice presidents; Paul E. Renner, cashier; Elmer W. M. Duttera and Catherine S. Stambaugh, assistant cashiers.

Other directors are Harrison F. Snyder, John H. Menges, Paul R. Wildasin, Charles E. Ritter, George B. Sneeringer, Edgar W. Berwager, Thomas F. Devine, Ira E. Fuhrman, Franklin R. Bigham, Edward A. Sheets, Nevaeh A. Crouse and Frank Elser.

RELAXES IN SOUTHERN SUN

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy relaxed today. The President flew down from Washington Thursday, planning on a minimum of work and a maximum of rest.

Kennedy starts an official, three-day visit to Canada Tuesday and another to France on May 31. Mrs. Kennedy, who is going on both trips, is resting here, too. The two Kennedy children remained in Washington.

The President relayed word to reporters that all he has in mind is loafing beside a swimming pool and on the beach and shooting nine holes of golf a day at the Palm Beach Country Club. Two golfing companions, Christopher J. Dunphy of Palm Beach, and Charles Spalding, New York banker, came down from Washington aboard the presidential jet.

HURRIES TO COURSE

The President left Washington in a steady rain and landed hours and 12 minutes later in the sunshine at the West Palm Beach airport. He was on the golf course as soon as he could change to slacks.

The Palm Beach home of the President's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, is closed for refurbishing. So the chief executive and First Lady are staying a mile and a half down the road at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wrightsman.

Wrightsman is a retired oil man. His wife is a member of Mrs. Kennedy's committee on the fine arts.

TANEYTOWN — According to plans drawn up by the activities committee for the Community Activities Center, the new structure will be a two-story affair with an auditorium and stage, removable seats and lavatories.

An announcement by the committee said the building is designed to fit into the Memorial Park rectangle adjoining the firemen's grounds. The firemen have held off their plan to build rest rooms at the carnival grounds for sometime.

One of the rooms on the lower level will be used for a Scout room, the announcement said. The Scouts have been raising money toward such a project, and at present have realized over $1,000.

There will also be rooms on the ground floor which can be devoted to meetings, ping-pong, darts, shuffle-board, quoits and other games. There will be a special game room for children.

The committee said that no plans are being made for a gymnasium since adequate accommodations are available at the high school.

2 DIPLOMATS BOLT CASTRO

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two Cuban diplomats—man and wife—defected Thursday and predicted the struggle against Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro will "continue and succeed."

Antonio R. Montane and Gilda Portela de Montane, veterans of 24 years diplomatic service, quit their posts at the Cuban Embassy here and asked Mexico for asylum. Montane was a second secretary who ranked fourth among the embassy's officials, and his wife was consul general.

The Montanes said their embassy here is a beehive of Communist activity and a distribution center for Red propaganda going throughout Latin America. They said they were no longer willing to be used as Communist tools.

The diplomats, both Roman Catholics, said Castro's new campaign against their Church in Cuba was the final breaking point for them.

"I am also a mother and I see what communism is doing to Cuban children," Mrs. Montane said.

Brazil Deals U.S. Severe Blow In Defense Of Cuba

By EDWARD T. BUTLER
RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazilian President Janio Quadros has dealt a stinging blow to Washington's efforts to enlist Latin America against the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba—and at a time when the United States is gathering up a massive lump of aid money for Brazil.

In a diplomatic note Wednesday night defining his government's position toward Cuba and the hemisphere, Brazil's new neutralist-line president made clear he wants the United States to keep hands off Cuba.

He also made clear that he does not regard the Castro regime as a member of the Communist bloc, as the United States does.

WILL OTHERS FOLLOW?

The question now is how many other South American nations will take Quadros' viewpoint. If many other key nations do, any U.S. effort for collective hemisphere action against Cuba seems doomed.

Brazil's position on Cuba, as explained by Foreign Minister Afonso Arinos, is to oppose any foreign intervention, direct or indirect, be it military, economic or ideological.

This could be applied to Red China or the Soviet Union. But the tone of the Brazilian note was clearly against any U.S. intervention.

Quadros took this stand despite growing pressure from the Roman Catholic Church, big segments in Congress, intellectuals and the press to put Brazil on record in opposition to what many here consider a Communist regime in Cuba.

But Quadros is also aware of northeast Brazil—a tremendous area of impoverishment that has starved while the country's ruling class waxed fat.

Washington, finally alarmed at the threat of a Castro-type revolution in northeast Brazil, is preparing to send several hundred million dollars worth of aid to Quadros to help that section. U.S. officials have emphasized that Quadros would get the money no matter what position he took on Cuba.

But they obviously expected him to stay on the fence at least.

He didn't. But until he can start pouring U.S. dollars into the hungry, poverty-stricken backlands, he cannot take a stand that even

The program committee of the YWCA met Thursday afternoon at the "Y." Those present were Mrs. Roy H. Hammond, chairman, Mrs. Basil Benson, Mrs. Philip Noble, Mrs. Frank Bruner, Mrs. James Myers, Mrs. Harold Schuh, Miss Virginia Myers, Mrs. Jake Hornor and Mrs. Eric Ruckleshaus were unable to attend. Mrs. W. Stewart Paul, president of the YWCA, and Mrs. Ralph Heim, executive secretary of the YWCA, also were present.

The tentative program for the year 1961-1962 was planned and includes: September, tea and display of artificial flower arrangements; October, benefit card party; December, Hanging of the Greens; January, covered dish luncheon for the membership; February, Valentine card party; March, style show and tea, and April, National YWCA Week celebration.

Also discussed was a plan for organizing a "Senior Citizens" group. This was tabled for later discussion.

The classes to be offered in the fall are as follows: Beginners' bridge class, duplicate bridge class, millinery and slipcover making. Anyone wishing to join these classes or desiring any class not proposed is urged to sign up at the Y office.

the "Operation Gettysburg": Paul L. Roy will head the publicity committee; Mrs. Forrest Craver, the hospitality committee, and Kenneth Dick, the state and national contacts committee.

ASSIGN DUTIES

Because of the need for funds in connection with "Operation Gettysburg," the Jaycees decided to conduct a souvenir stand for the third visit here by the "Iron Horse Ramble."

Harry Spangler was named chairman for the Junior Golf program and Ranger Buehler will be chairman for the Junior Tennis tournament.

Plans were announced for a Buddy Deane Record Hop Saturday evening, May 20, from 8 to 11 o'clock at the high school cafeteria.

REVIEWS YEAR

John Basehore was named chairman of advertising for the book to be printed in connection with the annual Antique Show. Seventeen antique dealers already have signed to attend the show.

Donald Becker said members of the Jaycees are continuing their work to remove stumps at the Adams County Public Library and a specialist from Pennsylvania State University has drawn a plan or shrubbery there. He said the Jaycees are determining the cost of the shrubbery.

Retiring President Harry Spangler reported on the last year during which membership increased from 27 to 39, a library project for tree removal was car-

TRADING HEAVY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued its muddled pattern early this afternoon in heavy trading. Prices were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 to 247.20 with industrials up .20, rails up .40 and utilities unchanged. Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional. A few went a point or so either way.

NEW YORK EGGS

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA)—Wholesale egg offerings of all sizes, except small browns, ample. Demand slow.

New York spot quotations: Whites: Extras (47 lbs. min.) 35½-37½; extra medium (40 lbs. average) 29½-30½; top quality (47 lbs. min.) 35-39; mediums (41 lbs. average) 29½-30½; smalls (36 lbs. average) 23½-24½.

Browns: Extras (47 lbs. min.)

35½-36½; top quality (47 lbs. min.) 35-37; mediums (41 lbs. average) 29½-30½; smalls (36 lbs. average) 26-27.

ried out, the prize-winning street lighting survey was conducted, the antique show was the largest in history, junior golf and tennis tournaments were held, and "Campaign Gettysburg" was inaugurated. One of the most "satisfactory" programs of all was the visitation to the shut-ins at the hospital on Christmas Eve," he reported.

PLANS READY

Campers are to bring a lunch each day with the exception of the day they are scheduled to cook out.

Applications for attendance must be in the county Girl Scout office no later than May 26. Late registrations will be placed on a waiting list.

Badges offered include the Rambler badge for Fly-ups and Reptile and Amphibian badge for Intermediates and Seniors.

CLOSING PROGRAM

A closing program will be held Friday afternoon, June 16, at which time an exhibit will be made of work accomplished during the camp and skits will be presented by each unit. Parents are invited to attend the program.

Transportation arrangements were announced as: A bus will leave Aspers square at 8:15 each morning with stops to be made at Bucher's Restaurant at Bendersville and Ditzler's Furniture Store, Biglerville. Another bus will leave the Arendtsville bank at 8:15 each morning, stop at McKnightstown, King's Store, Orrtanna, Cashtown, fire hall, Fairfield community house and the Esso service station, Fairfield.

FACE CODE CHARGE

Forecast

Extended forecasts for May 6 through May 10:

Western Pennsylvania — Temperatures will average 7 to 11 degrees above normal. Warm until turning cooler about Tuesday and warmer Wednesday. Precipitation will average ¾ inch to 1 inch occurring as occasional periods of showers or thunderstorms Saturday and again Monday through Wednesday.

Eastern New York and New Jersey — Temperatures are expected to average 6 degrees or more above normal in most places and around 2 to 6 degrees above normal over southern New Jersey. Warming trend over the weekend, turning a little cooler in northern sections Wednesday. Precipitation may total ½ inch or more occurring mainly as showers Saturday and again in some local afternoon and evening showers or thundershowers during the early portion of the week.

Middle Atlantic States—Temperatures will average 3 to 5 degrees above normal. Warmer Saturday and Sunday, continued warm Monday through Wednesday. Total rainfall about ½ inch in afternoon and evening thundershowers.

score them by placing the number of points on that contestant's score card. The judges have not yet been selected.

The county finalist will be eligible for the state contest at Hershey Park, Hershey, Aug. 26. Other members of the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sterner, Carl Seifert and Mrs. Belford Thompson Jr. The contest is sponsored by the Adams County Poultry Association.

Tickets for the event at $1.25 per person may be obtained from any member of the association. There will be no sale of tickets at the door.

IS FIRED FROM JOB DUE TO ASSOCIATION

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A former Philadelphia Transportation Co. executive said today he was fired because of friendship with a contractor whose firm is being sued for $172,000 by the city of Philadelphia for work done on the Frankford Elevated line.

George S. Carroll, 41, told newsmen he lost his $9,000-a-year job as superintendent of ways and structures last October after 19 years with the PTC.

The PTC had said previously Carroll resigned.

The city solicitor's office or May 9 filed suit in Common Pleas Court against Hughes Steel Erection Co. and, as holders of a $172,000 performance bond, the Travelers Indemnity Co. and Continental Casualty Co. The suit claims the Hughes firm took shortcuts in work on the Frankford Elevated line, which is owned by the city and operated by the PTC.

HAD RECEIVED GIFTS

Carroll said he had gotten gifts, a color television set and a hi-fi from contractor Eli G. Travis, president of Hughes Steel, and also spent a week in Florida on a 46-foot boat owned by a Travis company.

Carroll said the gifts had no connection with PTC work, although they occurred at a time he was with PTC.

"I worked a lot of weekends and nights doing favors for Travis," he said, adding that Travis never asked him for favors in connection with PTC work because "he knew he wouldn't get them."

Hughes Steel was declared bankrupt in U. S. District Court May 8.

1. Choose your dealer carefully.
2. Buy only from a well established reputable dealer.
3. Buy only from a dealer who maintains his own adequate facilities to service the car you buy.
4. Insist on a WARRANTY in writing that can be "backed-up."
5. BUYING from a NEW CAR DEALER IS YOUR BEST BET. . . . Most new car dealers sell locally owned trade-ins, not Used Cars obtained from Auto Auctions or distress merchandise from large cities.
6. Insist on knowing where the Used Car came from. "Ask who was the previous owner." Most new car dealers will be happy to tell you and invite you to contact the previous owner.
7. New Cars bought from Used Car Dealers . . . REMEMBER, only the New Car Dealer is authorized to extend a FACTORY WARRANTY to a buyer, NO ONE ELSE.

SCIENCE FAIR ATTRACTS 385 HS SCIENTISTS

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—His face is beardless, but he speaks intimately about binary computers.

She radiates beauty as she earnestly discusses the effects of light and darkness on the Red Harvester ant.

He never has known a blind man, but he has built a device to make the sightless "see" by sound.

There are 385 such examples—one for every finalist—at the 12th annual National Science Fair, which has brought together the best high school scientists from this and five other countries.

All winners of local science competitions, they are vying for a number of awards, small in money, but rich in honor.

240 JUDGES

Two hundred and forty judges from universities and colleges roamed municipal auditorium Wednesday, examining the sometimes fantastically complex exhibits prepared by youngsters of 14 through 18. In the evening, the same judges questioned the competitors, giving most weight to creative ability and scientific thought, then rating the thoroughness, skill, clarity and dramatic value of the displays.

The top four awards—first place to a boy and girl each in the physical sciences and the biological sciences—close the three-day fair Friday night. There also are a number of awards for contributing groups for a particular field. Awards in health categories are to be announced tonight.

Where other youngsters might have talked of sports and dates, Robert Guthrie of Des Moines, Iowa, and Richard Brusch of Munster, Ind., swapped information about computers for an hour.

SEALING THE LOCK—The last caisson is moved into position at the Veergat, sea entrance to sound between Walcheren and North Beveland islands, to seal it off from the North Sea. Channel closing is part of the 25-year delta plan of the Netherlands.

NO STATEWIDE RACES, ISSUES NEXT TUESDAY

By HARRY W. BALL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A fiftieth career woman in politics hopeful of setting some precedents in the 16th Congressional District is one of the principals in this year's lackluster primary election.

Kathryn Zimmerman Vanderslice, 57, of Harrisburg, already has set one precedent by merely getting her name on the Democratic ballot for Congress. A woman has never been nominated before by either party in the four-county 16th District.

Mrs. Vanderslice, for all her trim appearance and the vigor of the campaign she has been waging, faces formidable odds in the showdown next Tuesday.

SEASONAL OPPONENT

Her Republican opponent, 64-year-old John Crain Kunkel, also of Harrisburg, is a seasoned campaigner and former congressman. Moreover, a Democrat has not represented the district since the mid-1930s. To top it off, the Republicans hold an almost two-to-one majority on the registration books in this particular district, contrary to the over-all statewide registration trend to the Democrats.

The contest is for the vacant seat of Walter M. Mumma, who died unexpectedly last Feb. 25 after being re-elected only last year to his sixth successive term. The Kunkel-Vanderslice campaign is the nearest thing to a major contest in the entire May 16 primary. It will afford the chartists their first real opportunity since last November to gauge the political temperature.

NO STATE ISSUES

There is no statewide candidate or issue on the ballot for the primary.

In Pittsburgh, the mayoralty contest has generated only mild interest because most of the names belong to relative newcomers to politics. Mayor Joseph M. Barr, who succeeded to the position when Gov. Lawrence relinquished it 2 1/2 years ago, is running in this year's municipal elections for a full four-year term.

Scranton and 22 other major cities of Pennsylvania also are nominating and electing new local governments in the 1961 balloting.

Judges of common pleas, orphans and county courts will be nominated in about half of the state's 67 counties next Tuesday. This is the only contest in which candidates may cross-file and run for the nomination of both parties. Many have done that.

57 OPTION VOTES

The wet-dry issue, a hardy perennial in all Pennsylvania municipal election years, is on the ballot of 57 boroughs or townships in 32 counties.

Citizens of Philadelphia, Allegheny, Montgomery and Wyoming counties will ballot on filling four vacancies in the 210-member House of Representatives. The vacancies were created by three deaths and one resignation since the current session of the General Assembly began.

School jointure proposals, bond issues, election of county row of officers, and other lesser matters also will be on the ballot.

A total of 5,546,696 citizens have qualified to vote in next Tuesday's primary, but the percentage of votes cast is expected to be extremely small because of the absence of statewide candidates and the lack of hot issues.

The 9,069 polling places will be open primary election day from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., EST.

HITLER'S AIDE MAY BE ALIVE SAYS LAWYER

By JOHN FIEHN

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—State Atty. Fritz Bauer said today he has circumstantial evidence that Martin Bormann, Hitler's top lieutenant, is alive and probably hiding in Latin America.

Bauer declared eyewitness accounts that Bormann was killed trying to flee Berlin late in World War II are "highly questionable." He would not elaborate.

Companions of Bormann in Berlin testified to his death before a German court at Berchtesgaden, which officially ruled him dead Oct. 27, 1944. The Allied war crimes tribunal at Nuremberg earlier had sentenced him in absentia to die on the gallows.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

Ever since the end of the war there have been conflicting reports.

Extremely small because of the absence of statewide candidates and the lack of hot issues.

The 9,069 polling places will be open primary election day from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., EST.

LIST 1ST STEP IN FILING FOR FEDERAL AID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communities hoping to claim federal aid under the new depressed areas program were given instructions today on the first steps they should take.

The preliminary ground rules were laid down in a 13-page booklet, "Your Community and the Area Redevelopment Act." It was issued by the Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA), the 2-day-old agency that will carry out the program.

Communities eligible for loans and grants under the new law have not been named yet by the ARA, an arm of the Commerce Department. However, the agency said about 110 urban labor markets will be designated shortly. In addition, the ARA will announce later a number of smaller urban and rural communities which may participate.

EXPAND INDUSTRY

All the eligible areas will be those with substantial and persistent unemployment and underemployment. They will be able to seek federal loans for the expansion of industry and commerce, loans and grants for public facilities required in such an expansion, and help in teaching workers new skills so they will be better equipped to find jobs.

The ARA said two actions can be taken at once by any area that expects to participate in the program:

SECOND ACTION

1. Set up a development organization that can speak for the community and take the lead in planning an area economic program. Such organizations should establish working relations with the state economic development agency.

2. Formulate a preliminary plan for the area's economic development.

Before any area can receive a loan or grant, it must have a development plan approved by the state development agency. This plan also must win the approval of the ARA, which said preliminary plans should cover these points:

OTHER POINTS

1. Description of the local organization (its membership and experience) that will carry out the program.

2. Statement of the present economic situation in the redevelopment area, including employment by different economic activities, labor force, unemployment, income sources and levels, and availability of capital.

3. Conditions, such as natural resources and transportation, affecting employment and income.

4. Problems and needs.

5. Economic potentialities and goals.

6. Recommended program and timetable for action.

Plans of this type may be submitted as soon as an area is designated by ARA as one of those covered by the program.

At present the new agency has no funds and less than a dozen employees. However, it expects to make its first loan within two or three months.

An official said about a half dozen communities already have made inquiries about their possible role in the program, which became a law May 1.

NEW RELIGIOUS DENOMINATION IS ORGANIZED

BOSTON (AP)—A new religious denomination comes into being today—The Unitarian Universalist Association, with nearly 200,721 members.

The association consolidates The American Unitarian Association, with 118,000 members in 405 churches and 336 fellowships, and the 71,000-member Universalist Church of America, with 400 parishes.

Formal consolidation of the two groups, discussed for a century, was a mere formality reserved for an afternoon business meeting. Everything was settled weeks ago when merger proposals were ratified at parish levels.

The choice of a head for the new body may be a spirited contest.

Nominees are the Rev. Dr. Dana McLean Greeley of Boston, president of The American Unitarian Association; and the Rev. William Brooks Rice, minister of the Wellesley Hills (Mass.) Unitarian Society.

Dr. Marshall E. Dimock of Bethel, Vt., a former assistant secretary of labor who is now head of the all university department of government at New York University, was unopposed for moderator.

KERR-MILLS PLAN TO BE USED IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP) — It appeared here today that Pennsylvania would go along with the federal Kerr-Mills medical care for the aged program, instead of waiting any longer for an anticipated new plan.

Gov. Lawrence said in a statement Thursday that he will ask the General Assembly to approve legislation implementing the existing aid, which would mean $22.6 million for the state's needy aged.

The announcement had been expected for several days.

"WITH RELUCTANCE"

The Kerr-Mills program was made law under the Eisenhower administration and would provide aid for an estimated 62,000 persons 65 and over on a matching fund basis.

Gov. Lawrence had been hoping the Congress would enact a new program backed by President Kennedy that would provide aid under the Social Security system.

"We have taken this step with the greatest reluctance," Lawrence said. "It is a poor and inadequate substitute for a broad-based Social Security program based on sound insurance principles."

TO BRING LARGE SUM

The state already has budgeted some $8.7 million to help hospitals provide care for elderly needy persons in the 1961-62 fiscal year.

If the General Assembly agrees with the governor's plan when it returns to session on May 22, it is expected to cost the state another $3,731,000.

This would bring in $14,404,000 in federal funds, Lawrence said. The program would make state aid available to sectarian hospitals on a large scale for the first time.

INCOME LIMITS

The income limit for persons to become eligible under the new plan would be $1,500 for single persons and $2,400 for married couples. In addition, single persons would be permitted to own up to $1,500 in liquid property assets and couples up to $2,400.

For each minor, dependent child living with the applicant, an additional allowance of $500 would be provided.

Liquid property assets would exclude home, furnishings, life insurance and car.

The aid would provide up to 60 days hospitalization plus an unspecified period of post-hospital care at home. It also would provide nursing care in the home when directed by a physician.

For the hospitals, the new program is expected to provide important relief from the growing cost of supporting free-care patients.

The state under its own program, has been reimbursing hospitals on the basis of $10 per day, per patient.

Under Kerr-Mills, the reimbursement can go up to $25 per day for that portion of the indigent patients in the elderly category.

The Public Welfare Department estimates the average reimbursement at $22 per day.

WOMEN MAY BE BEST DRIVERS OF SPACE SHIPS

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Women may be better drivers than men in outer space.

Of course, it's still a little far fetched. But if the day comes when people are driving vehicles in orbit around the earth, tests at the Martin Co. give the edge to women.

The company has been simulating space flights for more than a year as a project for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"Drivers" have flown millions of miles in outer space from a room in the Middle River Plant.

One test is operation of controls to bring two space craft together on a television screen.

This is in anticipation of the future when stations or fuel depots may be necessary for space travels.

"We find that women usually catch on to the space rendezvous controls faster than men," E. E. Clark, director of advance programs for Martin, said today.

MEN OKAY TOO

They usually come alongside the other vehicle in their first or second try.

"Somewhat the secretaries get the manual feel of space driving immediately. Possibly they concentrate on the simple maneuver with no side thoughts on the scientific problems involved."

Clark, perhaps self consciously, hastened to add men have no real

NEGROES IN AT GEORGIA TECH

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech has voluntarily torn down its barrier to Negro students.

Faced with the prospect of legal action, the famed Atlanta engineering school Thursday announced tentative acceptance of three Atlanta Negroes along with approximately 1,000 white freshmen.

All they have to do to win final acceptance is satisfactorily complete their final high school semester.

Thus, Tech apparently will avoid the confusion which reigned last winter when two Negroes, trouble either with manipulating a space craft. At least, on the simulators.

Clark, perhaps self consciously, hastened to add men have no real

GOLDEN AGE MOTHERS TO HAVE BIG DAY

LEHIGHTON, Pa. (AP) — For the golden age mothers of this region Saturday will be the day.

Let the junior moms have their innings Sunday, opening boxes of candy and vials of perfume, fluffing out nosegays, being made a fuss over by their somewhat self-conscious broods.

The ladies of riper ages — 70 and over—have Saturday all to themselves.

It is a custom now in its 23rd year, the inspiration of Richard Edwards, 71, a department store

Hamilton Holmes and Charlayne Hunter, cracked the color line at the University of Georgia in Athens. They were admitted only on order of a federal judge, who had to twice issue mandates that they be permitted to attend classes.

The second order came after a campus riot.

Tech President Edwin D. Harrison announced his school's decision to accept the applications of the Negroes—Ford Greene and Ralph A. Long Jr. of Turner High School and Lawrence Williams of Washington High School.

Harrison said that he personally accepted responsibility on 13 Negro applicants. Ten were rejected along with approximately 600 white applicants.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The faith of William Booth, who saw weakness and poverty as a pawnbroker's assistant in 19th Century England, strengthened him to form the Salvation Army that today serves man over the world.

William dedicated his life to Christ at 15 and went "forth to serve my God." He preached. In his late forties, he founded the Army with his wife, overcoming financial difficulties, ridicule and abuse to be honored by the king.

Today, these "sons and daughters of Him Whose name and Whose nature is love" offer services that include the Anti-Suicide League, emergency housing, employment bureaus, nurseries, hospitals, homes for aged, youth camps, care for convicts, unwed mothers and alcoholics.

ORAL VACCINE IS GOING WELL

HARRISBURG (AP)—If what's happening in Harrisburg is any indication, there won't be a problem immunizing Americans against polio.

An estimated 90,000 persons turned out Thursday to get their "shots" in the second round of the Dauphin County Medical Society's program to immunize the people in this central Pennsylvania test area.

The turnout stumped the experts because in other tests—there have been three others in the country—the number of people to get the second dose was smaller than those who wanted the first.

From all indication here, however, there will be quite a few more to go through the immunization lines during the two days the dose is being given this week.

Some 91,320 persons showed up for the first dosage, given separately on April 6 and 8. Unless practically nobody shows up Saturday, that number certainly will be surpassed this time.

Dr. Thomas F. Fletcher, vaccine program director for the society, was elated.

"The most surprising thing about it all," he said, "was that the number of persons who turned out for their first dose was more than anything we expected. It was tremendous."

MAUCH SHAKES PHILS LINEUP

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Gene Mauch, trying to shake the Philadelphia Phillies out of a nine-game losing streak, tonight plans to start Jim Woods at third base for the first time this season in the opener of a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals.

That means that Charlie Smith, obtained last week in a trade with Los Angeles, will move over to Shortstop and Ruben Amaro will be benched.

The worst losing streak the Phillies ever encountered was in 1936 when they dropped 14 in a row. They dropped 13 games in a row in 1955 and 10 straight in 1956.

AP Newsfeatures

SAYS PITCHING GOOD Mauch says the pitching on the whole has been very good. He still is convinced the Phillies are improved over last year, but he is disappointed over the slow start.

"The improvement we had a right to expect from some of the young players just hasn't happened yet," he said. "I figured there were several who would benefit from last year's experience but Johnny Callison is about the only one who has come through as we hoped."

What has caused the Phillies' slump? They just haven't been hitting. In the nine defeats, they've been shutout three times, scored a total of only 14 runs and collected only 51 hits in 276 times at bat for a .185 team batting average. They've scored as many as three runs in only two games.

Cubs Recall Himsl For Managership

CHICAGO (AP)—Vedie Himsl again has caught the brass ring in the Chicago Cubs coaching merry-go-round.

Himsl, the club's first head coach of the rotating 10-man staff, was recalled Thursday to serve another term, replacing Harry Craft.

He comes in from San Antonio of the Texas League to lead the Cubs on a six-game western swing, opening tonight at Los Angeles.

Craft will serve as head coach at San Antonio, relieving Rip Collins who has held that job since spring training. Collins joins the Cubs in Los Angeles as a first base and batting coach.

RECOVERY RATE TOPS GUESSES

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Economists predicted privately today that continuing recovery would lift the nation's annual production to a record rate of more than $525 billion by the end of the year.

The optimistic estimate came as Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges prepared to meet here with his Business Advisory Council.

Members of the council—which includes the heads of scores of the country's largest corporations—were elated at the rising trend of sales and output in recent weeks. It surpassed the council's March predictions.

An industry by industry report on business prospects is not scheduled until Saturday. At hand already, however, are the joint findings of Commerce Department experts and the council's own panel of industry economists.

The report, to be presented by F. R. Kappel, president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., reportedly shows that national output will reach a rate of $505 billion a year in this quarter.

Hard-burned brick prove the most satisfactory for garden walks and patios because of their resistance to wear and to the elements. Also, their warm earth colors harmonize with natural surroundings, according to the Structural Clay Products Institute.

Makes Air Control Tower Small Broadway Theater

By PAUL BUIAR

NEW YORK (AP) — The road to Broadway and stardom has begun in many strange places, but never from the control tower of an airport.

Now even this is possible.

Since last summer a concerted effort has been in progress to draw the multi-million dollar, jet-age New York International Airport at Idlewild into the orbit of the highly successful Off-Broadway legitimate theater.

THEATER WITH A VIEW

The instrument is "Idlewild Players," a group of professional semiprofessional and amateur actors. They operate in the "Sky-lark Theater," a soundproof, glass-walled, fourth-floor loft of the 10-story control tower at the field.

Venetian blinds are lowered during performances. Before and after the show they are drawn, revealing the spectacle of planes landing and taking off. During warm weather months, the effect is heightened by a huge water display at the airport's Liberty Plaza, with lights of different colors playing on the scene.

The founder, promoter and guiding spirit of Idlewild Players is Thomas Del Vecchio, a newspaperman who has covered La Guardia and Idlewild airports for many years. Since his teens he has had an ambition to be a playwright and has written several plays during his 35-year newspaper career. None has reached Broadway.

ATTRACTS PROFESSIONALS

Del Vecchio likes to talk theater. Through such uninhibited discussion with others at the airport he learned, to his surprise, that some airport employees were frustrated actors.

One thing led to another and Idlewild Players was founded in the spring of 1959. Word reached Broadway and unemployed professionals wanted in. "There's still a tremendous curiosity in the theater about a new thing," says Del Vecchio.

The group's first effort was produced in September 1959. It was a contemporary comedy, "Design for Scandal," written by Del Vecchio. Those who saw it in the 150-seat (folding chairs, rented) theater liked it. There was one review, by Milton Caine of "Aviation News," a biweekly news paper serving the industry. He thrilled the cast by writing: "It looks like a hit."

"PROCLAIM LIBERTY"

The troupe's next production was a 15-character costume piece, "Proclaim Liberty," which Del Vecchio adapted from a book he had written about Tom Paine. Caine again approved. The production last March was directed by Joseph Ryan, formerly of the Poet's Theater of Boston and the Boston Repertory Theater.

New York City newspapers have not reviewed Idlewild Players because they are classified as an amateur group. The cast feels, however, that professional reviews could lead to Broadway. Del Vecchio, who has footed all the bills up to now, hopes to attract sufficient support in the near future to pay his players the minimum Actors Equity scale.

REMAINS A REALIST

Del Vecchio remains a realist, however. Although his dreams are for Broadway, his plans are for establishing Idlewild Players as a permanent repertory theater at the airport with a stress on original plays and new actors.

The next planned production is an "original" although it was written by a master, the late Eugene O'Neill. The drama, "Servitude," is thought to have been written about 1914 but never produced. The plot involved a playwright and a triangle. Uncharacteristically for O'Neill, however, it has a happy ending.

Also planned is a series of one-act plays by Lajos Egri and, perhaps, some other works by Del Vecchio.

Del Vecchio's philosophy is: "It doesn't matter where you put on a good original. The big thing is to do it. If it's good, there's a great deal of satisfaction to be gained out of just doing it." He adds hopefully, "And then there's always the chance . . ."

Camera News

Our picture horizons change radically under the bright summer sky. Vacations bring new activities before our cameras. Any change from normal routine is likely to spark our photo fingers with fresh enthusiasm.

This is just fine for the current weekly snapshot contests for amateur photographers sponsored by many newspapers. Get any sort of an unusual shot and it's bound to be in one of the six categories listed for entries: Children, activities, scenes and animals for black and white pictures; people and places for color.

What makes a winning photo? There is no mathematical formula or easy-to-apply rules. However, to impress itself in a judge's mind, a picture must have some eye-catching quality in subject matter, mood, lighting or viewpoint. It should tell its story simply and quickly and should express, or arouse, emotion. It must stand out from among the vast number that pass before the judge's eye and invite a second

PARIS SHOWING—Workmen set up painting by Mme. Madeleine at Paris exhibit. It depicts President Kennedy, with slight halo, and barefooted Soviet Premier Khrushchev playing chess. Symbol of an angel holding its ears appears on what could be a tightrope.

GOOD GOAL

The very idea of a photo contest goal for your pictures may make a surprising difference in your shooting habits. Your eye becomes keener and more searching; your mind becomes more selective. You are more apt to discard trite subject matter because you ask yourself, perhaps unconsciously, "Will this rate as a winner?" It may even stimulate you along experimental lines, trying night shots, time exposures, odd camera angles.

You'll watch the backgrounds more carefully than ever before to avoid distracting elements. You'll come closer to your subject matter to eliminate elements of secondary interest. You'll wait patiently for the precise expression or the peak of action that sums up a particular person or situation.

You must also know the rules of the contest and be able to comply with them. For instance, do you take the names and addresses of people in your vacation pictures? With a contest picture in mind, it is a good idea to go a step further. You should try to get a signed release at the time the picture is taken with the promise of a print in return. And it's a promise that you should keep.

WRITTEN CONSENT

The rules specify that a picture to be entered for national judging must have the written consent of any recognizable people in it so that the photo can be used for promotion and publication purposes.

Camera fans should also carefully put aside the negative of any print entered in a photo contest so they can put their hands on it in the event that it turns out to be a winner. Contestants must be able to supply the original negative of a prize winner so that the best possible exhibition print can be made. An original negative is also positive assurance that the contestant is the maker of the selected photo.

A final word about mailing entries. They require entry blanks properly filled in, pasted to the rear of the prints. Despite this

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
The Associated Press

This is Ladies' Day. The first lady is Mrs. Charles J. Nevins of Yarmouth, Maine, who develops wormpower to keep her garden at peak production.

Raising worms is the winter project of Mrs. Nevins and her husband. Our old garden partner, Art Hawkins, told us the story of their efforts to enrich the soil of their north country land.

Perhaps you'd like to raise a few thousand worms yourself next winter. It's very worthwhile. The worms not only enrich and till the garden, but break down compost into valuable humus. The worms aerate and recondition the soil. The tunnels they dig retain moisture. The castings from their tiny digestive tracts provide exceptionally rich humus. They retrieve trace minerals from deeper in the soil.

EASIER WITH WORMS

The Nevins say that with a hay garden mulch, gardening is at its best—and easier, thanks to the worms. They cover their plots with hay for the winter.

"We just pull the hay aside to sow our seeds and pull it back when the plants are large enough," says Mrs. Nevins. "The soil remains friable and moist. We don't have to hoe or cultivate because there aren't any weeds."

Compost provides plant food and additional humus. The Nevins sprinkle it along the row and with it go more worms and their egg capsules.

The Nevins market their surplus to other green thumbs interested in breeding them for garden improvement, and to universities for biology and zoology classes.

These domesticated worms are a cross between a night crawler and an ordinary barnyard variety. They are more prolific than ordinary worms and reach a length of five inches. Mrs. Nevins contends they're more active too, and won't stray from their feeding places.

When conditions are proper, she relates, 1,000 breeders will produce nearly a million young ones a year. Birds, mice and other creatures interested in fat worms take their toll.

Mrs. Nevins keeps worms in her potted plants—one to each inch of pot—to assure the soil being in good condition.

The worms do such a thorough job in a compost pile that it isn't even necessary to turn the heap with a fork.

If handling worms bothers you, another lady has a suggestion for activity. Mrs. Jessie Richardson of Syracuse, N. Y., uses a lathe to turn out wooden pieces used by garden club exhibitors. Now 75 years old, Mrs. Richardson recently won several awards at the Everson Museum art and craft show. She also shapes metal.

When she was growing up, Mrs. Richardson explained, it wasn't considered ladylike to do some things she wanted to do. So she didn't get into craft work until she was 65.

The long life of the chrysanthemum is one of the principal reasons for that flower's popularity. And that goes for cut flowers and for the fairly recent summer-blooming variety as well as the faithful, hardy fall mums. We planted several of the early dwarf variety last spring and their yellow and white flowers were a pretty sight near the roses.

The common mums offer the amateur gardener a variety of colors, soft and bold, and a variety of shapes, including small, round pompons or shaggy.

Plant chrysanthemums where they will get full sunshine as long as possible. Plant them in a row or in small groups. They thrive in southern exposure and in fertile, well-drained soil.

DON'T NEED WATER

Mums don't need much water beyond what nature provides. If there should be drought, moisten, but do not soak, the soil about four weeks after planting, give them a feeding of 5-10-5 fertilizer, cultivated and watered in.

The most common mums pest you'll have to combat is the brown chrysanthemum aphid. Aphids generally cluster on terminal shoots and on undersides of leaves. They suck juices and disfigure and eventually may kill plants. Another mums enemy is the Mexican mealybug, a tiny white insect covered with a white, waxy excretion. It attacks leaves, stems and flowers, causing stunting.

For control of insects and sooty mold, spray with nicotine sulphate solution mixed with white oil. Destroy all dead or infested portions of the plant.

DISEASE PREVENTION

To prevent diseases of chrysanthemums:

1. Don't plant in wet, shady places.
2. Don't crowd plants. They need air circulation.
3. Water only during the early hours of day.
4. When the plant is well-established, spray with Bordeaux mixture of zinc (sheen fungicide). Also effective are malathion and nicotine sulphate.
5. Stake plants to keep branches off the ground.

Plant bugs have a tendency to continue eating throughout their lives, the kinds of foods on which they were raised.

INVESTIGATIONS

Researchers at the New York State College of Agriculture say, for instance, that bugs that hatched from eggs laid on alfalfa prefer it to other foods. Scientists are trying to determine whether there are definite races of tarnished bugs that prefer certain foods, or whether the tendency to eat certain foods is acquired after birth.

Tarnished plant bugs hit some types of fruits and vegetables harder than others. They attack beans, cabbage, apples, peaches, corn, wheat, oats, alfalfa and other crops. They can stunt, deform or kill fruit or prevent normal development of flowers.

The study indicates that the bean variety shown as bountiful survives tarnished plant bug attacks better than Fordhook limas, red kidney, or California pinks, among eight varieties being tested.

Even if your outdoor real estate measures only two by four, you are on the way to pushing spring ahead in your house. You can do it by forcing tulips, hyacinths and daffodils into bloom before their natural time. All you need are bulbs and clay pots and a place to cold-store them until you want to rush the season.

It is important to use large, or show-size, bulbs. Some varieties are better for forcing than others so check when buying. For planting bulbs, buy pots known as bulb pans. These are wider than they are tall.

Put a bit of broken pottery over the drainage hole of your pots. Then add a half inch or so of pebbles, over which add a mixture of loam, leafmold or peat moss and sand to about three inches from the pot rim. Press this down and set the bulbs on top. About a quarter inch of space should separate the bulbs from each other.

NUMBER OF BULBS

Your display will depend on the number of bulbs you plant in each pot. Five tulip or daffodil bulbs will make a brave show on your window sill. Remember to plant the same variety in each pot so that all will bloom at the same time.

Tulips or daffodils look better in groups in a pot but hyacinths are attractive either singly or in groups. What kind of hyacinths? Bismarck for blue, City of Harlem for yellow, Pink Pearl, Edelweiss or L'Innocence for white, and Lady Derby for salmon pink.

When the bulbs are in place, gently knock the soil ball from it to check whether a network of roots has developed. If it has, you can ease the earthenball back into the pot and bring it into the house (room temperature of 50-55 degrees near north window preferred) until the shoots turn green. Then move it to a sunny, slightly warmer area and keep the plant well-watered.

Yorker Is Killed In Auto Accident

YORK, Pa. (AP)—James F. Howley, 52, of nearby Spry, died in York Hospital Thursday night of injuries suffered in a collision between a small panel truck and two cars.

State police said the truck, driven by Raymond M. Stambaugh, 37, of York, went out of control on a road about a half mile north of here and skidded into the opposite lane, colliding with the two cars.

Howley was a passenger in the truck. Stambaugh was detained at the hospital for observation. The drivers of the cars were treated and discharged.

add soil so that the bulb tips barely show. The soil should be pressed down to eliminate large air pockets. Leave about an inch on top to facilitate watering once the bulbs have sprouted.

MARK WITH CARYONS

If you want to take the trouble to label the pot-varieties, mark the pots with crayon or tie a label on a bamboo stake long enough to stick out above the mulching materials with which you should cover the pots while roots are forming.

Soak each pot in water for a while to thoroughly moisten the soil and pot. Then cover each pot with an empty inverted pot of the same size to protect the new shoots as they grow. The pot should be placed in a deep trench or coldframe for eight to 10 weeks. Six inches of soil should be dumped over the pot and this covered with a thick mulch. Leaves or marsh hay are satisfactory.

CHECK IN JANUARY

Early in January, dig up a pot, gently knock the soil ball from it to check whether a network of roots has developed. If it has, you can ease the earthenball back into the pot and bring it into the house (room temperature of 50-55 degrees near north window preferred) until the shoots turn green. Then move it to a sunny, slightly warmer area and keep the plant well-watered.

Editor Accuses Russell Of Smearing Newspapers

WASHINGTON (AP)—James S. Pope, a former president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, has accused Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., "of attempting to smear newspapers simply because military men have been careless with defense data."

Pope, executive editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, wired Russell objecting to views expressed by the senator in testimony released Wednesday by the Senate Armed Services Committee. Russell is chairman of the committee.

A transcript of the testimony, taken in April, quoted Russell as agreeing with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that too many military secrets had been leaked and published.

QUOTED RUSSELL

The transcript quoted Russell as saying:

"About the public's having a right to know the most highly secret of our defense plans, I think that's absolutely ridiculous. I have an almost unspeakable contempt for any man in politics who would be frightened by newspapers telling him they would attack him because he was not giving them intimate details about defense planning."

In Pope's wire, released here, the editor said:

"Many editors will think this a contemptible effort to smear newspapers simply because military men have been careless with defense data. If you know of any editor who has threatened a politician to extract military secrets, you should name him."

SHOULD RETRACT SMEAR

"If you don't know of any such effort you should retract your smear on newspapers. Those editors who have fought for freedom of public information have always expected secret military data and you should know it."

Pope has been chairman of the ASNE Freedom of Information Committee three times.

McNamara appeared before the committee April 4 and 5. It was then holding closed sessions on the Kennedy administration's military budget.

The transcript released was considerably censored, but, it showed McNamara expressing shock that Pentagon security experts had released so much of his secret testimony on military matters.

STATEMENT SCREENED

At the time McNamara testified, newsmen were given copies of a prepared statement he took into the hearing room. This statement first was screened by Defense Department security specialists.

McNamara said the security screeners left in statements about weaknesses of U.S. military forces "which, if I were a Soviet military planner, would be of great value to me."

The transcript then quoted Russell as agreeing too many military secrets have been leaked and published.

1960 BOROUGH REPORT FILED

The McSherrystown borough entered 1961 with a cash balance of $12,038, including $6,760 worth of securities, according to the annual report filed today with Clerk of the Courts Kenneth E. Johns by Auditors Eugene W. Elin, Robert T. Storm and Edgar H. deCheu-bill. The borough entered 1960 with a cash balance of $4,952, including $1,760 worth of securities.

Receipts were as follows: Taxes, $25,229; miscellaneous, $10,334; nonrevenue, $3,227, and $1,000 from the sewer fund.

Expenditures were: General administration, $2,573; tax collection, $1,276; borough buildings, $104; protection to persons and property, $4,636 for chief of police, and $699 for patrolmen; fire, $3,699 of which $2,760 was for donations to volunteer companies; highways, $14,846 of which $445 was for repairs to bridges and sidewalks; equipment, $1,367; insurance, $890; road construction (reimbursement from state), $7,507; maintenance of roads, $508; wages, $269, and tar and bituminous, $470.

Repairs to the recreation park cost $274. There was a $1,000

To Complete Canal Restoration May 30

HARRISBURG (AP)—Restoration work on 1,700 feet of the old Delaware Canal at Morrisville, Bucks County—which has already been started—is expected to be completed by May 30.

The Forests and Waters Department said Wednesday the canal is to be reopened to aid irrigation and industry downstream in Bristol.

The canal portion was filled in 1932 for a railroad spur, which has since been abandoned.

The contract for restoration was awarded to Eugene E. Edwards, Langhorne.

A separate contract, for $23,900, was awarded to Edward Daylor Co., Coatesville, for replacing a concrete bridge upstream at Upper Black Eddy.

transfer to the sewer fund and $505 to the highway fund.

OTHER REPORTS

The sewer report showed there was $3,500 paid on a bond, leaving $19,000 worth of debt. Interest was $550. Receipts were $17,004 while the state refund from the board of health was $504. The transfer from the general fund was $1,000.

The following expenses were listed under sewer disposal: $2,194 for salaries; $210 for supplies; $464 for repairs; $291 for fuel, lights; $235 for electric; $232 for equipment; for general administration, $2,401 for salaries; insurance $124 and others, $211.

Capital outlay showed $3,241 for construction or extension of sewer; $3,232 for purchase of land and improvements; and $2,038 for major equipment. There was a cash balance of $3,222 entering 1961.

The highway fund report showed receipts at $5,047 with a cash balance entering 1960 of $1,451. Expenses were $424 for salaries and $4,637 for supplies, leaving a balance of 56 cents.

The tax rate for 1961 is 20 mills on a real estate taxable valuation of $1,036,542 and $104,370 on occupations. Delinquent taxes were $6,594 on real estate and $439 on occupations.

Victoria Terms Britain "Neutral" in Rebellion

Forbids Aid To Either Side

LONDON, May 13—Queen Victoria today told the world that England would remain neutral in the war between the states in America.

Noting "certain hostilities between the government of the United States of America and certain states styling themselves as the Confederate States of America," the Queen proclaimed a "royal determination to maintain a strict and impartial neutrality in the contest between the contending parties."

Her majesty's decision was arrived at with full agreement of Prince Albert, her consort, according to court circles.

THE FAR-REACHING decision capped a month of international intrigue in which Federal envoys to the court of the Queen sought to steer Britain clear of any direct aid to the rebelling Confederate forces.

Secretary of State Seward earlier had given Lord John Russell, secretary of state for Great Britain, a thinly-disguised protest over his meeting with representatives of the Confederate government.

In this message, Seward advised Britain that privateers would be treated as pirates and that suppliers of aid to the privateers would, in effect, be treated as accomplices of the pirates—a clear warning to Britain to steer clear of the infant Confedererate Navy.

IN HER proclamation, Queen Victoria specifically outlawed the enlistment of subjects of the crown in forces of either side of the North American controversy.

Subjects of the Queen also were forbidden to supply munitions; convey men or arms to either side in the war, or to in any other way aid either force.

CHARACTER OF WEEKEND DAYS HAS CHANGED

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Something has happened to the calendar in the last generation.

It has changed, the days don't mean what they used to.

In our well-ordered yesterdays, each day had a separate purpose and its own identity. You did certain things on certain days and the week wore a seemingly endless pattern of certainty and security.

Every day then had its own special character, but the weekend days were especially notable.

TYPICAL SUNDAY

Sunday, for example, was the day you put on your best clothes, went to church, ate a fried chicken dinner at 2 p.m., took a nap, then spent the evening gossiping on the front porch and eating ice cream.

Questions of national principle as well as family policy—and who would win in the National League, the Giants or Cincinnati—were ironed out in these front porch discussions in the darkening summer twilight. The front porch then was the forum of America, and especially on Sunday evenings.

Sunday, however, no longer is quite the day it used to be, is it? Golf and television and the motor car have rather changed the Sabbath, and one wonders sometimes whether it is altogether for the better.

GREATEST CHANGE

But the greatest change in the week's calendar has happened to Saturday and Friday.

Not so many years ago Saturday was the day of the week one spelled in capital letters.

Work ended at noon or 1 p.m. at the latest, and from then on Saturday was sheer magic.

Saturday was payday. Saturday was the day when no family, that held its head up in the neighborhood and had a feeling of local responsibility, failed to leave a series of rings in the bathtub.

Saturday was the day for haircuts, the kids in the afternoon and the grownups in the early evening.

Saturday was one long splurge of excitement, from the noon whistle until they rolled up the town sidewalks—along about midnight. It was the night of romance and adventure, when a young fellow set out not knowing whether he would find love or a black eye.

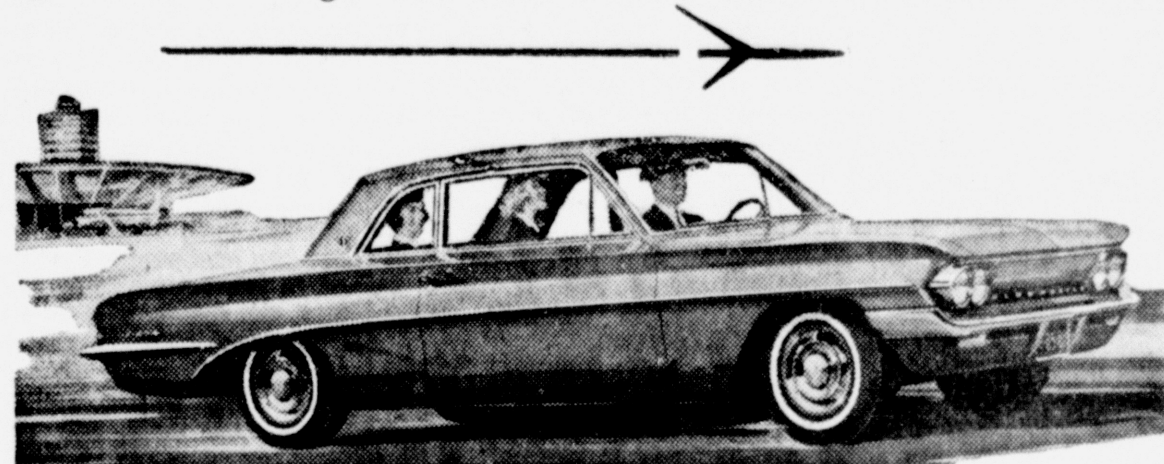

All that is changed. Something happened to Saturday. Its magic has gone. People get paid on Friday now, and start the weekend sooner. Many stay home on Saturday night because they are tired and want to rest up for the fun of Sunday.

Yep, the week's calendar has been turned topsy-turvy in many ways.

But one day never changes. That is Monday, the day of inescapable responsibility. Nothing, one feels, will ever change the nature of Monday, the day when the alarm clock clangs again and civilization returns to its remorseless anvil.

Real Meaning Of Cross Given By Rev. Dr. Coble

By REV. DR. O. D. COBLE
Bendersville Lutheran Charge
St. Luke 9, 23 "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me."

The cross of Jesus Christ is an emblem that is sacred to every one who believes in the Lord Jesus Christ. The cross may suggest the manner by which He died or again it may refer to Christian discipleship. Each of the gospel writers stresses the importance of the cross. Our hymns often mention it. One of the best known is the "Old Rugged Cross."

The cross is at the heart of what every Christian believes. It's a symbol of some thing which is both sacred and holy. Something which has become a glorious emblem. We find it on our church spires. We wear it with reverence. It's to be found on our altars. Indeed it is possibly the most precious emblem the Christian Church possesses. But of all the emblems dear to the Christian or those that we cherish none are less understood or appreciated.

To many the cross of Christ is either the cross on which He died or again it represents His suffering and privations as He faced a not too friendly world during His ministry. In a sense either of these two interpretations are correct as they pertain to the life of Christ. But this is not what Jesus had in mind when he said, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me."

"IRREPARABLE HARM" It is here that almost irreparable harm has been done to Christ and His kingdom. Jesus is not inviting one to assume a life of privation and hardship. And yet somehow there is a persistent feeling that the Christian is denied those things which are normal to life. This certainly is contrary to the message of Christ. Even the angel announcing the glorious news of His coming said, "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

The cross of Christ is not something so much that we carry or bear but some thing to which we cling. I am thinking of a picture seen by many. A person clings to the cross amidst the turmoil of life. The cross becomes a means of escape from the perils of life. In it there is safety and peace. Instead of being a burden the cross actually upholds us.

"COME UNTO ME" Jesus says "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

town, Rev. Henry R. Early, pastor. Worship with sermon, "Lutheran Families Look to Christ and at Themselves," with Sacrament of Holy Baptism, at 9 a.m.; Church School with special Mother's Day program. Rev. John Loose, speaker, at 10:15 a.m.; Junior and Senior Luther League meetings at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Children's Choir rehearsal at 6:30 p.m.; Youth Choir at 7 p.m.; Church Choir at 7:45 p.m.

Bender's Lutheran. Church School with LWA film, "Date with Revolution," at 9:30 a.m.; worship with sermon, "Christian Motherhood," at 10:45 a.m.

Zion Lutheran, Fairfield. Rev. Otto Kroeger, pastor. Church School at 9:15 a.m.; the service with sermon at 10:30 a.m.; Luther League at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Confirmation Class at 4 p.m.; Cherub Choir at 4:15 p.m. Thursday, Youth Choir at 7 p.m.; Senior Choir at 8 p.m.

First Baptist. Rev. E. W. Codding, pastor. Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.; worship with sermon, "Sacred Moments, Solemn Vows," at 11 a.m.; Youth Fellowship at 6:30 p.m.; worship with sermon, "David's Punishment," at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, midweek worship at 7:30 p.m.; choir practice at 8:30 p.m.

dantly. "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

To know Christ is to live and life becomes a joyful daily experience. The cross means a deep inner joy, a sense of release. It brings peace and quiet to a troubled soul. One who carries the cross of Christ, that is lives the Christian life, is set aside, dedicated to life's highest ideals. The cross breathes of hope, of joy and of life. This is the true meaning of the cross. Something of which one can be proud and yet humble because it means so much. The cross is the way, the truth and the life.

"UNFAIR TO CHURCH" I recall quite keenly a reaction of a member of my catechetical class quite a few years ago. I had asked the individual members of the class whether they accepted Christ as their Savior and wished to unite with our church. One replied, "No, I don't think so. I want to have a good time." I was shocked by the response not because it came from the lad but because it went deeper than that. Here was a lad living in a Christian home, attending Sunday School and church and yet who felt a person who was a Christian could not enjoy life. This is unfair to the church and especially to Christ but cross bearing, being a member of the church, indeed being a Christian has been misrepresented as being pretty much a matter of self-denial, privation and seclusion. "IDEALS OF CHRIST" On quite the contrary bearing the cross of Christ, living the ideals and principles of Christ is life's most glorious attainment and the one and only way any one can ever know the real meaning of joy, happiness and life. Unfortunately all too many supposedly Christian people have given the impression that the normal, God-intended way of life, is denied one who becomes a member of the church. The Christian denies himself nothing that is necessary or essential to life. It is only when one becomes a Christian that he really knows the meaning of joy and happiness.

John Stainer has given us these immortal words:

"In the Cross of Christ I glory, Towering o'er the wrecks of time, All the light of sacred story Gathers round its head sublime. When the woes of life o'ertake me, Hopes deceive and fears annoy, Never shall the cross force forsake me. Lo! It glows with peace and joy."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CANONIZATION RIGID PROCESS FOR CATHOLICS

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)—When Philomena lost her sainthood a few weeks ago it surprised many Roman Catholics, as well as others, that what they considered an irrevocable title could be withdrawn.

It is true that canonization—the process of declaring a person a saint—involves an "ex cathedra" pronouncement by the Pope, which Catholics regard as infallible.

The fact is, Philomena never was canonized.

There is no chance of the same fate befalling Sister Bertilla Boscarin, the Italian nun and hospital worker who was made a saint Thursday in the Catholic Church's regular canonization process.

FIRST CANONIZATION

The first papal canonization was in 993 when Pope John XV proclaimed Bishop Ulfie of Augsburg a saint, and to end the abuses Pope Alexander III in 1170 reserved the right of canonization to the Pope alone.

Still some bishops continued to authorize veneration of saintly persons in their dioceses and confusion continued. Many persons, like Philomena, since have had to be stricken from the rolls when evidence of their sanctity turned out to be dubious by later standards.

Finally in 1634 Pope Urban VII expressly prohibited all bishops from naming saints on their own, and the approximately 250 persons declared as saints by Popes since then stand no chance of being "un-sainted."

FOLLOW RIGID PROCESS

The Catholic Church today follows a rigid process of canonization set up by Pope Benedict XIV in 1750.

The canonization process begins in the home diocese of the "servant of God," as he is referred to throughout the procedure. The local bishop collects every shred of evidence available and sends it to the Roman Rota, the Vatican's "appellate court."

SUBMITTED TO COMMISSION

The Rota appoints an ecclesiastical lawyer known popularly as "the devil's advocate" to refute all the evidence the sponsor of the cause can produce. Often the evidence runs into volumes.

The Rota then either approves or disapproves of submitting the case to the Sacred Congregation of Rites, a permanent commission of cardinals established in 1588.

In three successive meetings the cardinals discuss the subject's sanctity and virtue.

Three more meetings are held to establish the second requirement of sainthood—proof of miracles wrought through the subject's intercession after his death.

This is the greatest stumbling block because in the case of instantaneous cures of organic disorders at least two recognized medical authorities must testify the cure could not have come about naturally.

If two miracles are proved, the subject receives the title of "Blessed" and is allowed to be venerated in certain localities.

But two more miracles must be proved before the person can be canonized a saint. Again, the cardinals meet three times with the Pope attending the third meeting to make the final and irrevocable decree.

BACKS KUNKEL

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—John C. Kunkel, the Republican candidate for the 16th Congressional District seat, has the endorsement of U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

Their endorsement was read from a telegram Thursday at a rally here for Kunkel.

TRUCK DEADLINE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The deadline for obtaining 1961 truck registrations is May 31.

Director James W. Miller of the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles Thursday reminded truck owners of the deadline. He added that only 12 per cent of an estimated 600,000 trucks have been registered.

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

Associated Press Special Service WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Carroll D. Kearns, R-Pa., has the thanks of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower for defending his administration's efforts in the cultural field.

Kearns made public today a letter Eisenhower sent from Gettysburg, Pa.

The letter, addressed "Dear Carroll," read:

"I just heard of your eloquent defense of the past administration on the cultural front. My thanks for your continuing thoughtfulness and my appreciation of the warmth with which you remember those of us no longer in Washington."

REMINDED ABOUT IKE

The letter was signed "D.E." Eisenhower's letter referred to an earlier, seven-page letter sent by Kearns to the wife of Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo. Mrs. Bolling then was serving as a member of a committee to arrange a women's national Democratic club "Salute to the Arts" luncheon.

"Many people are beginning to think that the art interest of the federal government . . . began with the invitation to Robert Frost, the great poet, and 150 other cultural leaders to attend the inaugural ceremonies of 1961," Kearns' letter said.

Kearns told the Democratic women that it was under the Eisenhower administration that the National Cultural Center Act came into being and that as long ago as six years it proposed a federal advisory council on the arts.

TO BUILD CENTER

The National Cultural Center is to be built in a section of Washington along the Potomac River known as Foggy Bottom. Actual construction has not started, but fund-raising from private sources is continuing.

Kearns' letter went on to criticize Kennedy administration officials for proposing to demolish some "historic buildings" on Lafayette Square, near the White House, and replace them with two new court houses.

Kearns said that when Kennedy was a senator he introduced legislation to save the Dolly Madison House and two other buildings adjoining Lafayette Square.

Administration officials now maintain, however, that the buildings have no great historical significance. The Madison House, they say, was rebuilt by the Cosmos Club of Washington in 1895 and has lost all historical meaning.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Army Engineers announced Thursday that the $80 million job of widening and deepening the Delaware River channel from here to Trenton, N.J., should be completed by 1964. Seventy-five per cent of the work has been done, the engineers said. The dredging started in 1956.

Besides starting 24 times, Milwaukee's Lew Burdette proved a good relief pitcher last season. He finished nine of his 13 relief stints.

Ex-Carrier Dies On Old Mail Route

COWLEY, Pa. (AP)—Emmor Pepper, 82, had traveled the secondary road in this tiny Eastern Pennsylvania community many times as a rural mail carrier before he retired only a year ago.

He was riding along the same road with his wife, Abbie, 71, Thursday night. They had started out from their home in nearby Granville Summit to attend a church supper in Windfall, another tiny hamlet in the area.

But the car missed a sharp left turn and ran into a tree. Pepper and his wife were killed. The coroner issued a verdict of accidental death.

FOUND GUILTY IN COP'S DEATH

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A jury reconvenes today to determine the punishment for Albert E. Raymond, who was convicted of murdering a policeman.

The first degree murder verdict was returned Thursday night by the jury of six men and six women. They deliberated about four hours. Under Pennsylvania law, they must set the penalty at either life imprisonment or death.

Just before the jurors retired, Judge Joseph Sloane said to them, "It would be a miscarriage of justice if you found him not guilty."

The trial lasted 10 days. According to the prosecution, Raymond, 29, lured Patrolman William H. Powell Jr., 30, into an apartment house hallway last Nov. 19 and shot Powell with his service revolver during a robbery.

In Pennsylvania, murder committed during robbery is first degree.

Raymond contended that he shot in self defense; that Powell was off duty and had come to him seeking a girl. According to Raymond, the shooting took place during a disagreement.

FARM CALENDAR

Late Sowing Costly — Research shows that planting oats late in Pennsylvania has decreased yields as much as a bushel or more per acre for each day of delay, says Elmer Pifer, Penn State extension agronomist.

Get Sprayer Ready — Rainy spring days provide opportunity to get the sprayer ready for use, say Penn State extension agricultural engineers. Replace worn nozzles, broken or damaged hoses and make other needed repairs. On a warm day calibrate the sprayer for accuracy.

Prevent Rabbit Damage — cottontail rabbits like to feed on new growth in home gardens and flower beds. Robert Wingard, extension wildlife management specialist, says fencing with 1-inch mesh poultry wire 18 inches to 2 feet high will protect the plants, or chemical repellents may be used to make the plants distasteful to the beasts.

Save Hour Toes — The whirling knife-edged blade of a rotary lawn mower is vicious, warns Ralph Patterson, extension safety specialist. He suggests choosing a mower that is shielded well down toward the ground and treating it as you would a naked buzz saw.

Be careful and save your toes! Test Hold-over Seeds — Before planting left-over vegetable seed it's wise to make a germination test says James Dutt, extension vegetable specialist. Plant 25 or 50 seeds in good soil in a plant flat, or put 50 seeds between blotting paper kept moist and warm on a shallow tray or large plate.

Pasture Cows Carefully — Dairymen like to see lush pastures come along for their dairy cows, but Joe Taylor, Penn State extension dairy specialist, sounds a warning: the change from winter feeding can cause mastitis. He advises feeding some hay and grain before cows go out to pasture each day early in the season.

Cash crops in the Volatile Republic are limited to cotton, rice and peanuts. The principal wealth of the African country is in its 1½ million cattle, 2½ million sheep and goats and 31,000 swine.

The Story Behind The Book

RUSSIA AND THE WEST
UNDER LENIN AND STALIN

By George F. Kennan

Ever since the Russian revolution, the Soviet regime and much of the outside world have been bitterly at odds. The reasons for this unhappy relationship have been little studied by Western scholars. At the same time the record of Soviet foreign policy has been elaborately documented and interpreted by Russian historians in order to discredit the West and to reflect honor and glory on their own Communist state.

This imbalance is at long last brilliantly rectified by George F. Kennan in "Russia and the West Under Lenin and Stalin," the Book-of-the-Month Club Selection for June.

Unlike Soviet historians, Kennan does not plead a special case nor distort the facts. He points out straightaway that the Western nations have made grave mistakes. One of the greatest, in his opinion, was the refusal of the Allies to end World War I in 1917 with a compromise peace. Instead, hostilities were dragged out for another year because of insistence upon the unconditional surrender of Hohenzollern Germany.

CRITICIZES WEST

Kennan also points out that the Western world is too prone to accept its own war propaganda. "It tends to attach to its own cause an absolute value which distorts its own vision on everything else. Its enemy becomes the embodiment of all evil. Its own side, on the other hand, is the center of all virtue. The contest comes to be viewed as having a final, apocalyptic quality. If we lose, all is lost; life will no longer be worth living; there will be nothing to salvage. If we win, then everything will be possible; all problems will become soluble; the one great source of evil—our enemy—will have been crushed; the forces of good will then sweep forward unimpeded; all worthy aspirations will be satisfied."

Kennan does not underestimate the tremendous difficulties of trying to get along with the Russians. As the historical records show, Soviet leaders have seldom indicated any real desire to get along with the West, except strictly on their terms. Further, they have engendered a global atmosphere of fear and suspicion, not so much because they themselves have built a socialistic state as because they have announced repeatedly that the Soviet system must ultimately prevail throughout the world.

ATOMIC BOMB LESSON

In spite of all this, Kennan reminds us in the book, the atomic bomb has brought home the lesson that a modus operandi between Russia and the West must be found. It does not follow that just because you have an enemy you are obliged to destroy him, or can afford the luxury of all-out attempts to do so. Coexist we must, and to coexist we must understand our foes as well as our friends.

Kennan's unbiased, judicious narrative, representing many years of first-hand observation and scholarly study, spans three decades of violence and change. It is a book of which William L. Shirer has said, "Every adult American ought to read it—every adult Russian too."

George Frost Kennan was born in Milwaukee in 1904. His interest in Russia and Russians is, in a sense, inherited. One of his uncles, for whom he was named, was an authority on czarist Russia and published "Siberia and the Exile System" in 1891. Kennan wrote an introduction to an abridged new edition of this work in 1957.

Graduated from Princeton in 1925, Kennan entered the United States Foreign Service just in time to become one of a group of young officers being trained as experts in Soviet affairs. At this point the United States had not even recognized the Soviet regime, but two State Department executives of unusual foresight—Robert Kelly, then head of the Department's Eastern European Division, and Loy W. Henderson, who had served in the Baltic states—realized that inevitably Russia would come to have a louder and more aggressive voice in world affairs. They were determined to have men capable of dealing with the Soviet.

SERVED SEVERAL POSTS

Kennan later served in various American diplomatic posts on the periphery of the Soviet Union, and studied Russian language and history at the University of Berlin. When the Roosevelt administration restored diplomatic relations with Russia, he was sent to Moscow as Third Secretary.

Kennan's rise in the diplomatic

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara seems to be getting his concern for security confused with propaganda.

McNamara, as civilian head of the armed forces, is wrestling with the same dual responsibility which beset his predecessors in the Eisenhower administration:

How to keep the country as fully informed as possible without revealing vital military secrets to the Russians.

But a defense secretary also has a third responsibility: Not to kid the public.

RELEASE STATEMENTS

Last April McNamara, behind closed doors, testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee. He spoke in great detail on defense problems from a prepared statement.

His security experts in the Pentagon made public some parts of it after culling out others which they thought should not be revealed.

Then when he appeared before the committee he made additional statements under questioning. Wednesday the committee released some of those statements.

They showed: McNamara expressed shock that his security experts had released so much of world was rapid, and Truman appointed him ambassador to the U.S.S.R. in 1952. He left Moscow abruptly in 1953 when the Soviet leaders, infuriated by his publicized remark that conditions in Russia were "exactly the same" as in Nazi Germany, demanded his recall. Meanwhile, John Foster Dulles had become Secretary of State, and a difference of opinion with Dulles as to how the challenge presented by the cold war should best be met led him to retire from public life and to accept a professorship at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton.

This academic post provided him with the leisure he had long sought for study and writing. In 1956 he published "Russia Leaves the War," an account of American-Soviet relations from 1917 to 1920, which won the Pulitzer Prize in History in 1957. A second volume, "The Decision to Intervene," appeared in 1958.

Kennan has now returned to public life, having recently been named ambassador to Yugoslavia by President Kennedy.

MUDDY MISHAP — Jockey Dick Morreale is helped from the Fort Erie, Ont., Jockey Club's knee-deep race track after he and his mount, Tempest, fell in stretch.

his original testimony.

"It seems to me," he said, "that we were releasing far more (information) than would have been appropriate, considering the damaging effect on our security from the release of the information that was proposed."

HAD BEEN DISCUSSED

But, in tracking down his security experts' reasons for releasing parts of his testimony which he thought should be kept secret, McNamara said he found that many of the items previously had been discussed in public.

"Why," McNamara asked the committee, "should we tell Russia that the Zeus (antimissile missile system) development may not be satisfactory?"

Then the defense secretary added: "What we ought to be saying is that we have the most perfect anti-ICBM system that the human mind will ever devise."

If McNamara did put out such word—a complete exaggeration if only because McNamara can't tell what the human mind will devise—the Russians might be misled but so would the American public.

HOW ABOUT OTHERS?

If McNamara feels it's all right to feed such propaganda to the public on Zeus, then it seems fair to ask: Does he feel the same about other parts of American defenses which he may actually and privately consider inadequate?

There's no doubt he has an intense problem in trying to inform the public without revealing priceless information to the Russians, but other secretaries of defense before him contended with the same dilemma.

He got a lot of sympathy from the senators on the Armed Services Committee. Each defense secretary in turn has solutions that are a little different.

SOLE SPOKESMAN

For example: At the time Thomas S. Gates Jr. was sworn in as secretary of defense on Dec. 2, 1959, there had been a standing policy for years that the defense secretary should be sole spokesman for the military establishment.

Under this policy the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force seldom spoke out except when they were well away from Washington. Immediately on taking office Gates said this policy would be reversed.

He said he would encourage the secretaries to hold news conferences and answer questions. This writer has been told McNamara intends to follow Gates' system.

NIXON LURES LARGE CROWDS IN NEW FIGHT

Editor's Note: Starting in November, 1959, and continuing through the presidential campaign, Arthur Edson of the AP Washington staff made periodic trips with Richard M. Nixon. So when Nixon returned to the political fronts this past week, Edson went along. Here's his report on what's up with Richard M. Nixon.

By ARTHUR EDSON
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Any-one who traveled with Richard M. Nixon this week, who listened to his speeches, his news conferences, his informal conversations, would have to reach but one conclusion:

The man who came so close to winning the presidency from John F. Kennedy would certainly like another crack at it.

But this conclusion has to be hastily followed with qualifying footnotes.

As a political realist, Nixon knows the political odds are heavy against him.

NEVER HAD LOST

One of his great political charms before his nomination was that he had never been beaten. Furthermore, he could speak as vice president, and the many chores President Eisenhower passed along to him kept him in the public eye.

Now he's out of office. He has a Republican party in which one wing would like to swing a little more to the right and the other would like to veer a bit to the left of the stands Nixon has taken. His influence, as he himself has said, is limited pretty much to whether what he says makes sense, a commodity usually not influential in political circles.

As he said in a Des Moines news conference: "As far as my political future is concerned, I think it's behind me."

Yet hope springs eternal, especially in the breasts of ambitious politicians.

And Nixon, heading today toward his Los Angeles law practice, must look back on his visits to New York, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Ohio and find considerable grounds for hope.

Crowds were large and enthusiastic.

Republican leaders sought him out.
